County creates three sewer districts

By votes of 14-4, 18-6 and 19-6 Monday, the Madison County Board approved establishment of three special service areas to be served by a sanitary sewer construction program.

Establishment of the three districts will enable the county to sell general obligation bonds to finance the local one-fourth share of the $22 million sewer program. General obligation bonds are paid back through property taxes.

The three areas approved by the board are: Area One — Nameoki Township south of the Stallings area north through Pontoon Beach and into the Mitchell area, turning west to the Granite City sewage treatment plant on the Granite City Army Installation property; Area Two — State Park Place, to be served by a sewer line going into the Collinsville sewage treatment plant; and Area Three — a sewer starting in Eagle Park Acres and going north through the Cloverleaf Addition and East Madison, emptying into existing Granite City sewers.

Members of the county's special sewer committee have urged people not to sign anti-sewer petitions, contending that a sufficient number of signatures would prevent sewers from being installed.

At Monday's Madison County Board meeting, Committee Chairman Walter "Dick" Sparks, who also is a county board member and is supervisor of Chouteau Township, said the state Environmental Protection Agency has indicated that $14,360,000 in state federal grants will be lost if contracts for construction are not awarded by Oct. 1.

Using Area One for an example, Sparks said, "The EPA people at Springfield say they don't care how we get our $5 million local share, just so we get it on time. But we have no method or program or vision of raising a million in time to award contracts by Oct. 1, except for the method we are now using."

"We, as a committee, do not believe there is any other way to come up with that $5 million. Selling revenue bonds — paid by user fees rather than taxes — (Continued on Page 18)

Area Values drop

Quad-City taxpayers will pay tax bills this summer on a new total assessment of $290,408,220 in the four townships of the area, it was announced Wednesday by County Clerk Evelyn Bowles who said her office is proceeding with computation of 1975 tax rates for preparation of tax bills.

At the same time, the clerk's tax division announced the extension of a tax rate of 58.3 cents per $100 assessed valuation for the county, an increase of 41 cents over last year's rate of 57.2 cents. The county tax rate is applied countywide and is paid by taxpayers in all 24 townships.

While the combined property valuations for Granite City, Nameoki, Venice and Chouteau Townships is only $208,715, less than the aggregate assessment of $206,616,455 last year, major changes were listed in Venice and Chouteau Townships.

The new assessment for Venice Township is set at $48,890,000, a drop of $1,503,730 below the 1974 valuation of $50,393,730 on which tax bills were based last year. The decrease follows a trend of consistently declining property values in that township, creating mounting financial problems in Venice township taxing districts.

In contrast, the new valuation of Chouteau Township was set at $31,328,420, an increase to $3,715,970 over last year's assessment of $27,612,450. That boost in valuations, attributed to substantial increases in farm property assessments by the Board of Review, more than offset the Venice Township reduction in the total assessments for the Quad-City area as a whole.

New assessments certified by the review board to the county clerk for Granite City Township total $166,259,490, or $36,890 less than last year's valuation of $166,296,380, while the new valuation of Nameoki Township was set at $43,982,310, down $384,061 from last year's assessment of $44,366,375.

For the county as a whole, the total assessment on which tax bills will be based for collection this year was set by the Board of Review at $1,038,555,105, an increase of $36,286,160 over last year's locally-assessed value of $1,000,259,945. Madison County's total property assessment passed the billion-dollar mark for the first time last year.

Added to the locally assessed values were $17,822,509 in railroad property assessed by the state, up $646,280 over last year, and $5,299,450 in capital stock assessments, also assessed by the state at an

Record United Way goal: end merger talks

The Tri-Cities Area United Way board of directors voted 15-5 Tuesday afternoon against continuing merger talks with the River Bend (Allton) United Way.

After Dec. 1, the board's agenda will include the question of whether to explore various consolidations or structural changes.

Strong sentiment was voiced against transferring local decision-making control to an out-of-town group. Two proponents said they felt merger could reduce costs and improve procedures.

The topic had not come before the board previously. Part of the executive committee had begun contacts with the Allton group in May.

Tri-Cities United Way directors decided Tuesday to set the October 1976 goal at a record $475,000. The funds are to apply toward the 1977 operating costs of member agencies.

Specific allocations will follow the drive.

Al P. Steinhauser is to be employed on a part-time temporary basis in the United Way office. Before retiring, he was works manager of the American Steel Foundries plant.

Alphose Mueller dies

Alphose John Mueller Sr., 83, veteran Granite City Steel official, died early Tuesday at the Del Vista Nursing Home, Delta, Colo., where he had resided for the past year and a half.

A native of Summerfield, Ill., he resided in Granite City about 65 years. His local address was 3901 Highway 111.

An employee of Granite City Steel for more than 50 years, Mr. Mueller served as personnel executive and for a number of years was associated with the firm's blast furnace division. He retired ten years ago.

Mr. Mueller at one time served as executive secretary of the local retailers' association.

Anti-sewer signers may cancel names

Persons who signed petitions opposing the creation of taxing districts for construction of the four Township Sanitary Sewer program have the right to demand that their names be removed from the petitions if they have reconsidered the signing, Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas J. Byron said yesterday.

Asked for an effort the county to have their names removed from petitions opposing the creation of special taxing districts to help finance the sewer construction, Byron said they could have their names removed either by scratching them off the petitions or by signing affidavits stating they have reconsidered and request the Madison County Clerk to strike their names.

Harry Hartman, attorney for the Madison County Special Sewer Committee, has prepared affidavits for persons to sign if they have changed their minds about opposing the sewer taxing districts.

Walter "Dick" Sparks, chairman of the sewer committee, said copies of the affidavits are available in three locations and urged those wanting their names removed from the petitions to sign the affidavits before Monday's deadline.

"Affidavits may be signed and notarized free of charge from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Chouteau Township office, 825 Throntage Drive, Mitchell, and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Nameoki Town Hall, 4226 Highway 162, and the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, 1831 Delmar Ave., today, tomorrow and Monday.

"The surest way for people to remove their names from the petitions is to confront the person who has custody of the petitions and to strike his name. People who signed the petitions have the legal right to remove their signatures," Byron said.

Sparks said any one unable to contact the person who brought a petition to the committee should contact either the township office or the Chamber of Commerce if they wish to have their names on affidavits canceling their original signatures on the petitions.

Anyone on the sewer committee also may be contacted, he said.

Miss Bowles said any affidavits received for signature removals will be kept separate of the anti-sewer petitions. The anti-sewer petitions then will be considered to determine whether they meet the requirements of 51 per cent of the registered voters and 51 per cent of the property owners in each district.

If the petitions are certified, they then will be submitted to the Madison County Board along with any affidavits asking that names be removed. If the affidavits nullify the petitions (Continued on Page 18)

Memories of the great depression

(1930's of a Bicentennial year Press-Record series)
The unstable condition of the national and Illinois economy in 1931-32 served to focus attention on memories of the "Great Depression" of the 1930s.

The Quad-Cities were among the hardest hit communities, and ample job opportunities did not fully materialize until preparations began for World War II.

Many local men worked on Works Progress Administration road building and other assignments, and a number of Quad-City young men served at Civilian Conservation Corps camps.

Personal memories combined with statistics recreate a picture of the hardship years of a generation past, an unpleasant recollection for many Illinoisans.

Most of the state's citizens were affected by the financial crisis between 1929 and 1933 and many for a longer period.

In fact, coal mining, railroading and farming had been such industries long before the stock market collapsed in 1929.

The number of miners in Illinois declined from 103,000 in 1922 to 64,000 in 1930.

After the market crash, farmers in increasing numbers surrendered to despair or left the land, unable to meet the dual challenges of falling prices for their products and high levels of fixed debt.

Businesses declared bankruptcy and workers were turned out into the streets. 30 per cent of industrial laborers were out of work by 1932.

Banks and trusts collapsed, destroying family savings and large fortunes with impunity.

As the new year dawned in 1933, more than 1,500,000 of the 3,184,873 workers in Illinois were unemployed.

Nearly 850,000 persons, or half of Chicago's work force, were without jobs.

Relief came from private, county and state funds — soon drained by the overwhelming size of the challenge.

Private charity contributed a peak of $9,431,523 to depression victims in 1932. But considering the one and a half million unemployed, that (Continued on Page 4)

Petition count needed to decide sewer opposition

It will take another week or more to determine whether petitions filed against new sanitary sewers in State Park Place and in the Eagle Park Acres, Cloverleaf and East Madison areas contain enough signatures to block creation of the special taxing districts necessary to fund the sewers, Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles told the Press-Record yesterday.

The Madison County Board acted Monday to create three special taxing districts which would be assessed a tax rate to retire general obligation bonds used to finance the local cost of constructing new sanitary sewers.

Under state law, however, petitions against the taxing district formation will keep the county clerk from creating the district, if signed by 51 per cent of the registered voters and 51 per cent of the property owners in the district.

Petitions had been submitted against the taxing districts in (Continued on Page 26)

The Granite City Jaycees will sponsor their 17th annual Homecoming, beginning today and continuing through Sunday at Gaslight Plaza Shopping Center on Pontoon Road in Pontoon Beach.

Midway rides, concession stands, game booths and nightly entertainment, will be featured from 6 o'clock until midnight, according to Mike Bledsoe, Jaycee president and homecoming chairman.

Ray Sweeney will furnish the midway rides, offering the same attractions as last year.

Appeal ruling in Nameoki drainage case

Nameoki Township auditors Monday night gave authority to attorney Nick D. Vasilief, who represents the township's highway department, to file an appeal with the Illinois Supreme Court, challenging an Appellate Court ruling barring drainage improvements in the Parkway Estates area and ordering all road elevations returned to their natural height.

The issue first began when the township began attempting to drain the Parkway Estates subdivision to the east and under the Alton & Southern Railroad tracks, flooding some farm land on the east side of the tracks.

The owners of the land received an injunction halting all drainage work until the township could obtain a Circuit Court ruling that prohibited the township from making any drainage improvements in Parkway Estates and which ordered

National Steel to raise price on some items

National Steel Corporation will raise prices on structural and plates, effective July 16, in line with previously announced increases by other producers. The announcement was made Tuesday in Pittsburgh.

More aid to seniors pledged by Howlett

A Declaration of Independence for senior citizens was called for Wednesday by Michael J. Howlett, Democratic nominee for governor as appropriate for the U.S. Bicentennial.

"More than a million people over 65," said Howlett, "are over 65. More than 10,000 have taken the course and we have not heard of a single graduate failing the license renewal test," said Howlett.

I supported legislation which cut in half the driver's license fee for those 65 or older. But the secretary of state can do only so much. The governor's office is where the action is. That is where the Howlett-Hartigan team can do the most."

He said state agencies participate in 44 programs for seniors. The problem with government's helping the elderly has not been the scope or number of programs but the management of them.

He said he is studying new programs for additional help for seniors but would not promise what the state cannot afford. "I can promise efficient, tight management," he said. "We can vastly improve the programs we have. Participation can be increased. Waste and delays eliminated. I want to streamline Illinois government and make ours a model state."

'MIDEAST CHANGE'
Returning to Washington after a tour of the Middle East, President Nixon said a "profound and lasting change has taken place in that part of the world."

Mercer, Thomas in doubleheaders

The outcome of Sunday's Illinois Inter-City Baseball League doubleheaders, all at 1 p.m. could decide whether Granite City's Mercer squad maintains its first place position on the standings, and whether Granite City's Thomas team breaks out of a losing streak for the first time this season.

Mercer is on the road against Highland Park and Thomas plays host to Panama at Wilson Park.

Leading the league standings with a 9-3 record after breaking a first place deadlock early this week with Fairfax and the Vans — Mercer needs another twinbill sweep to stay out in front. Mercer defeated the Highland squad earlier this season, 6-2 and 4-3.

Fairfax, now in second place at 8-4 and Vans, now in a third place tie with Highland-Pierion with a 7-5 mark, meet each other Sunday at East Alton.

Thomas, a first year ballclub, will attempt to climb out of its 0-12 cellar with possible wins over Panama, which has a 5-7 record. Panama prevailed in previous outings, 8-7 and 3-1.

Paddlers expect 2nd record season

Membership at the Paddlers Swim Club, 2121 Johnson Road, is at "full strength," with all 450 families either using or assigning their membership certificates for the current season, it was reported at Tuesday's meeting of Paddlers' board of directors.

Final assignment of available stock was completed at the season, held in the new recreation pavilion at the twin-pool facility, according to Jerry Range, Paddlers president.

Charles Stevens, pool manager, reported operations are progressing smoothly. Attendance to date appears to match last year's figures, when a record-breaking number of pool users was tallied.

Stevens, an English teacher at McCluer High School North in St. Louis County, is beginning his first season as manager. Practice sessions are now under way for members of the Paddlers' competitive swim team, under the direction of Coach Herb Reisinger. Mrs. Gail Thompson McCormick is team diving coach. The initial meet of the 1976 season is scheduled for Wednesday, June 23, with Paddlers, hosting Summersport of Alton, diving events will start at 5 p.m., followed by individual contests and team relays.

Plans for various social activities were outlined for the directors at this week's business meeting by Mrs. Helen DeHuntz and Mrs. McCormick, program chairmen.

From 1 to 3 p.m. today, a pre-teen party is taking place at the pool, and a teenagers' night is planned for July 24.

Mrs. McCormick said arrangements are now complete for a baby outing to the Plantation Dinner Theater on July 9. Deadline for reservations is Friday, June 25, with those wishing to attend being asked to call, 876-3648 or 931-4937, for details.

Tickets are $19 per couple and include a full dinner and show. Mrs. DeHuntz advised. An adult party and barbecue team will play all of its home games at the pool pavilion Aug. 21, she added.

Range, announced the board will next meet July 20. Sixteen attended the meeting.

Sobol squad joins Khoury League race

The Granite City Braves baseball team, now in its third year, has been joined in Central Illinois Khoury League competition by a second Granite City squad, sponsored by John Sobol Realty and coached by Joyce Allen Graham.

The Sobol Realty team is composed of players who will be junior and senior students next year at GCIS North, where the team will play all of its home games.

Graham relates his baseball team has a limited schedule on tap. It opened with a doubleheader at Edwardsville earlier this week, losing 6-3 and 16-10 to the hosts.

All of its games start at 1:15 p.m. each Sunday, all doubleheaders. Sobol Realty will meet Belleville this Sunday, travel to Godfrey June 27, host Caseyville on July 4, travel to Godfrey again on July 11, and then host New Athens on July 18.

The tying run came in the sixth on hits by Greenwald, Ken Schaake and a sacrifice fly. Mercer then scored twice in the seventh on a single by Harrington, walks to Pat Peterson, Hughes and Scott, and another sacrifice fly.

Hit by Bob Scott, Jim Greenwald and Larry Corey in the fourth and a single by Dennis Harrington and a double by Bob Hughes in the fifth enabled Mercer to close the gap at 3-2 on the hosts.

Local students continuing to score high in physical fitness

A total of 532 Granite City Community Unit School District No. 9 students have qualified for the Presidential Youth Fitness Award based on records made in the district physical education classes this spring. Of these, five girls at North - Pat Bales, Robin Hayden, Jan Rose, Carla Macias and Cindy Myatt - earned the award for the eighth consecutive year. While the total number does not meet last year's record high of 601, this year's students had to have much higher scores to qualify because new national norms had been established following the 1975 testing period.

To qualify, a student must score in the 85th percentile or better in each of six test items - running for speed, agility, endurance, jumping arm strength and abdominal strength. This award, created more than ten years ago by President Lyndon Johnson to stimulate interest in young people in maintaining personal and fitness, includes a certificate signed by President Gerald Ford and an emblem that may be worn. It is estimated that nearly 3,000 Granite City students have earned the award since the program began. Those who qualified for Presidential Citations, listed by schools, are as follows:

Council upholds massage parlor license action

The Madison City Council Monday night unanimously upheld Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk's order revoking the business license of the Quad-City Health Systems, a massage parlor at 1423a Second St., Madison.

Mayor Sasyk told the council that the Illinois Liquor Control Commission has notified him that his order closing Norm's Tavern, 1301 Madison Ave., Madison, is being appealed.

A hearing will be held in Springfield and the commission will notify everyone concerned as to the time and place. Sasyk reported.

Attorney Harry Hartman, representing Lewis E. McCoy, licensee of the massage parlor, is requesting the council overrule Mayor Sasyk's order, contending that under the Illinois Physical Therapy Act of September 1974, only the State of Illinois has the authority to regulate massage parlors.

The contention of the mayor was that although the massage parlor had a license to do business, its employees were not licensed or had even applied for a license as a masseur or masseuse.

The massage parlor was closed previously in June 1973. The closing followed alleged failure of the operator to file an assumed names document listing names of persons owning the business. It remained closed for several months during the summer after the city passed an ordinance controlling health spas, but reopened in September of that year.

The tavern license, issued in the name of Norma Bosworth, was based on "several incidents at the tavern," Mayor Sasyk said.

The issue on the massage parlor will now go to the circuit court.

Nameoki ok's equipment for new police unit

Residents of Nameoki Township precincts three, five and 11 soon may receive volunteer police protection from the Nameoki Volunteer Police Department, being established under a federal revenue sharing grant from the township.

At Monday night's regular Nameoki Town Board of Auditors meeting, the auditors authorized Town Clerk Douglas Teeter to advertise for bids on patrol car, uniforms, radio and other equipment the new department will need to begin operation.

Bills will be paid from an $8,900 grant offered by the township in its recently approved revenue sharing budget. The township also has given two similar grants to help reactivate the State Park special police unit.

Both units work under authority granted by Madison County Sheriff John Maeras as special "supervisors of safety."

Volunteer patrolmen studied under the sheriff's office to qualify as supervisors of safety. After reactivation of the State Park police unit, several of the seven Nameoki area volunteers served as volunteer patrolmen in State Park Place to aid that department with a manpower shortage while training for the establishment of the Nameoki area unit.

Bids are to be sought on a full-sized 1970 or 1971 light blue car with the "police package" equipment, two emergency lights, a roof bar, a siren and public address system, a police radio and antenna, seven full police uniforms, leather accessories for the uniforms, and a citizens' band radio and antenna.

GC divers recover body

Funeral services were held today for James Arthur Addison, 27, of East St. Louis, whose body was recovered at 4 p.m. Saturday from a pond, located south of Interstate 70 and one-half mile east of Illinois 203, by the Bubblemasters Underwater Recovery Team (B.U.R.T.) of Granite City.

Mr. Addison was employed as a burner at Luria Bros. and Co., Inc., 2520 E. 23rd St. He was at the pond fishing and swimming with a group of friends.

He is survived by his wife, Izola Luma Addison; a daughter, Ila Larrese A. Addison; at home, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley (Gracie S.) Addison of Vance, Miss.; two stepsons, Kenneth and Eric Collins; three brothers and seven sisters.

The local volunteer divers, all members of the Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club, made the recovery in about one hour during their fifth search pattern. They were called to the scene at 3 p.m. by Illinois State Police, together with the Collinsville Fire Department.

Friends of Mr. Addison said one man attempted to save him as he disappeared beneath the surface, but the victim tried to pull his rescuer under and he was forced to release him.

B.U.R.T. member Fred Sarraich, a local area diver, who severely injured an ankle while entering the pond, which is "full of holes," remained at the scene to help stabilize the divers' lines, but later was taken by ambulance to Belleville Memorial Hospital.

Enroute to Belleville, the ambulance was involved in an accident with another vehicle and the driver was thrown from the vehicle to the pavement. He suffered bruises but was not believed to be seriously hurt.

Sarraich sustained bruised ribs, and cuts and bruises elsewhere. Minor surgery was required for the ankle injury at the hospital and he was released.

The B.U.R.T. volunteer divers were under the direction of Team Captain Vance Weiss. Other members responding to the emergency call were Bruce Evans, Phil Thron, Don D. Giggilamo, Edward Duffin, Mike Pasalich, Steve Heidke, Rich Grizzard, Ken Speers, Mickey Weiss, Sarraich and Dee Adams.

B.U.R.T. is operated as an emergency volunteer service and works with area law enforcement agencies and Granite City Civil Defense. Members provide their own equipment and air supplies.

Deadline on spring crop insurance

Area farmers who are Federal Crop Insurance Corporation policyholders are being reminded that the final date for reporting their acres of spring-planted crops for insurance purposes is June 30.

Any planted acreage that is reported after that date which suffered previous damage could result in no insurance coverage, Ben A. Jordan Jr., director of the Indianapolis regional office for FCIC, reports.

In the states serviced through the Indianapolis regional office, the amount of total "all-risk" insurance liability assumed by FCIC for farmers' crops has doubled since 1974. The local office is: Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, Jamestown Road North, Brees, Ill. 62230 (526-4888).

Cynthia Edwards becomes Mrs. Clark D. Johnston

Miss Cynthia Sue Edwards, a daughter of Lieutenant Colonel (ret.) and Mrs. Charles H. Edwards, 60 Carla Drive, and Clark Dewitt Johnston, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Johnston, 1536 Park Ave., Alton, exchanged wedding vows on June 12 at the Upper Alton Baptist Church, Alton.

The Rev. Robert Smith performed the double ring ceremony at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, before an altar decorated with palms and bouquets of mums, daisies and ivy.

Organist Jack Jenkins accompanied Paul and Linda Laughlin as they sang, "Let It Be Me," "Colour My World" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown fashioned with a fitted bodice of satin peau lavishly appliqued with French Alencon lace which was repeated on the high neckline and long tapered sleeves.

The skirt of ivory French satin crepe was designed with two deep pleats on each side to complement a wide center panel featuring lace motifs and fell softly in the back to form a chapel train.

A fitted Alencon lace cap secured her fingertip veil of bridal illusion, and she held a cascade of ivory roses, light pink Elegance carnations, stephanotis and baby's breath intermingled with ivory.

Maids of honor Miss Laura Edwards and bridesmaids Miss Jill Edwards both sisters of the bride and Miss Deborah Johnston, the groom's sister, Mrs. Marcia Steidemann, a cousin of the bride and Mrs. Monica Dresch, selected identical gowns and wore headpieces of baby's breath in their hair.

Their halter style dresses were created in a delicate floral print of pink primroses and white daisies on a background of cream and soft brown chiffon. A cape attached at the back necklines formed the collars and fell softly in folds to the waistlines.

The honor attendant held a nosegay of white daisies, deep pink Elegance carnations and baby's breath and the bridesmaids carried nosegays of similar blossoms in pink hues.

Attending the groom as best man was James Gillespie. Groomsmen and ushers included Kenneth Cook, the groom's cousin, Richard Ritchey, Gene Blasa and Scott Jacoby.

Guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception held at the Alton VFW Hall.

A dinner for members of the wedding party was served at the church following the rehearsal.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Edwards chose a full length pastel turquoise satin crepe dress with matching lace bodice and long sleeves worn with off white accessories.

Mrs. Johnston mother of the groom, was attired in a formal length pink crepe dress and also wore off white accessories. Both carried purses with ivory orl accents.

A 1970 graduate of Granite City High School the bride also graduated in 1974 from Lewis and Clark Community College. She is currently employed as a dental assistant for Dr. Richard Lyon of Alton.

The groom graduated in 1971 from Alton High School and received a B.A. degree in biology this year from Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville. He is employed part time at the Alton Venture Store.

The couple will reside in Alton after June 30 following a wedding trip to Aspen, Colo.

Jaime Louise Doak and Randy Thompson are wed

Miss Jaime Louise Doak of Edwardsville and Randy H. Thompson of Houston, Tex., formerly of Granite City, exchanged vows on June 6 in a heritage wedding which revived the simplicity of an outdoor setting at the farm of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thompson of Dorsey, Ill. former residents.

There were 400 guests who participated in outdoor lawn games, fishing, boating and swimming in the lake at the farm. Lunch was served from plank tables in a redwood picnic shelter decorated with hanging baskets of red geraniums and variegated petunias.

To recapture the aura of the past with relaxed and happy atmosphere and dismiss the conventional celebration, the wedding service was written by the bride and selected guests read passages of the ceremony at 3:30 in the afternoon in the presence of the Rev. Larry Riehl, a resident minister at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

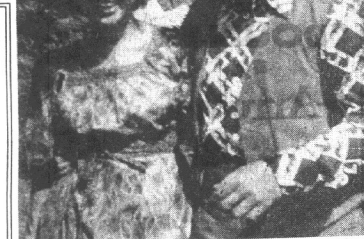

Those participating in the ceremony were Helen Cerny, Krystina Madison, Jill Thompson and Gayle McCormick, the latter two are co-sponsors of the groom, Robert Pates, Charles MacMillan, Bill Nordstrom and Dr. Stan Zawalni of St. Louis, a cousin of the bride.

For her wedding, the bride wore a pale yellow dress in beige and brown hues fashioned with a square neckline, short flared sleeves and a semi straight street length skirt, complemented with a natural color wide brimmed straw hat. Music was provided during the day by strolling guitarists John Pavlik and Angie Flock of Edwardsville.

The bride is a daughter of Major and Mrs. Alexander D. Doak, 3201 Lipscomb, Fort Worth, Tex. A dinner for the bride and groom, members of their families and close friends was hosted at the Jefferson Avenue Boarding House in St. Louis on the evening prior to the wedding.

The bride received a B.A. degree in history and French at Illinois College and M.A. degree in English at SIUE and a Specialist Certificate in Counseling at SIUE. She was teaching English and French at Hazelwood (Mo.) High School prior to her marriage.

A graduate of Granite City High School, the groom, served four years in the U.S. Navy and was trained in diving, parachute and demolition schools in Virginia. He received a B.A. degree in psychology at SIUE and is presently employed as a commercial, industrial and nuclear diver and diving instructor for The Ocean Corp., Houston, Tex.

MARRIED. Miss Jaime Louise Doak and Randy H. Thompson who were married in an outdoor ceremony at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thompson, Dorsey, Ill., formerly of Granite City. The bride is a daughter of Major and Mrs. Alexander D. Doak, Fort Worth, Tex.

Congregation honors pastor and family
A farewell reception was given for the Rev. and Mrs. Dan Powers and children, Christy and Steven, at the Dewey Avenue United Methodist Church during the weekend.

Hamm-Scallions betrothal
The congregation participated in singing favorite hymns, and Barbara Powers presented a solo, "I'd Rather Have Jesus." A gift from the congregation was given to Rev. and Mrs. Powers by Mrs. Jean Hileman. Refreshments were served from a decorated table.

The new minister, the Rev. Eugene Beasley of Mounds, Ill., will begin his duties here today. The bride-elect is a graduate of Granite City High School North.

Her fiancé is a South High School graduate and is presently employed at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Wedding plans are indefinite at the present time.

ENGAGED. Miss Carla Scallions and Robert Wayne Hamm whose betrothal is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Scallions, 2617 Whippoorwill Lane. Wedding plans are indefinite at the present time.

Jaymar's first to admit that the Europeans have had some pretty good fashion ideas.
But Jaymar knows that American men don't want to look like they belong on the Champs Elysees. So they give their leisurewear just a hint of the continent.

Some of the new Jaymar outfits have slightly wider lapels. A touch narrower waists.
Or European pockets. Just enough to give an American design a little foreign accent.
Why not drop in sometime and look

Spirit of '76 baseball meet July 23-Aug. 1

Plans for a Spirit of '76
Baseball Classic have been completed and the 12-team tournament is slated to begin at Friday, July 23, at 6 p.m. with the Atom Optimists playing St.
Charles, Mo.

The double-elimination competition, hosted by Glen Carbon American Legion Post
435 and sponsored by the Mir-rorth Athletic Club, will be played at the North High and Mitchell fields.

Ron Madden, tournament director, relates that American Legion and National Baseball
League rules will be complied with except that participating teams from Illinois and Missouri will be allowed to submit 20 player rosters instead of the regulation 18.

First and second place team trophies will be awarded along with a team sportsmanship award and a most salubrious tournament player citation.

An all-tournament team will be selected from members of participating squads. It will compete against the tourney championship squad.

Game two will find the defending, Missouri state
American Legion champion,
Ferguson, pitted against the 22nd District's Cahokia.

The victory gave McClure an equal opportunity with previous main event victors, Rick Hocking of California and Randy Creek of Oklahoma, to aim for this year's track title on the quarter-mile dirt oval.

McClure, riding a Bullcat, captured a heat race and a semi-main event Tuesday evening.

The Texas rider has had to settle for runnerup honors in the season point standings for the past two years, first to Cleek and then to defending titlist
Darryl Kirkland of Millstadt.

Kirkland qualified for a starting spot in the feature but was unable to compete after breaking a foot in an accident during a preliminary race.

Oklahoma's Rory Simmons was the fastest qualifier of the evening with a one-lap time of 15.75 seconds on the quarter-mile.

Joining McClure as heat race winners were Brian Cope of Belleville, Gary Ruest and Lance Jones, both of Oklahoma, and Joe Ridgeway of Decatur.

Ga. Jones, Ruest and Greg Thompson also captured their respective semi-main events.

Club plans Nashville trip

Granite City Chapter 1340 of the American Association of Retired Persons, Inc., discussed the activities of the chapter's Rhythm Band and also a trip to the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville, Tenn. during a meeting held at the VFW Hall last week.

Mrs. Vina Law, president, presided and announced reservations are still available for the Nashville trip set for July 30-Aug. 1. The trip will cost $60 and includes transportation, hotel accommodations for two nights and tickets to the show, she added.

It was reported the band had played at the Arena for Senior Citizen Fair and was seen on two television stations and they also performed at a seniors meeting at Grace Baptist Church.

Presently the band members are practicing for a performance at the state fair on Senior Citizens Day on Aug. 20. Mrs. Elma Hoover reported on the trip to the Black Madonna Shrine and Grants Farm. Mrs. Law said a picnic will be held at 6 p.m. July 14 at Wilson Park and members are to bring a covered dish, table service chairs or tables and meat will be furnished by the chapter.

Members agreed to disband for August and resume meetings in September at Coolidge Junior High School cafeteria.

12,000 attend church meet

An estimated 12,000 members of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, attended the 81st annual meeting in Boston, Mass., this month.

Many of the denomination's more than 3,000 branches in 57 countries were represented at the sessions.

Mrs. Lenore D. Hanks, chairman of The Christian Science Board of Directors, told the assembled delegates that "Not just the Christianity that acknowledges Jesus as the Saviour but the Christianity that follows the Christ so closely it adds spiritual dimension to everything we do."

Accounts of healing solely through prayer were shared throughout the meeting. "In Christian Science, Christianity and healing are forever linked. We cannot really have one without the other," Mrs. Hanks commented.

During the meeting, it was announced the new president of The Mother Church is Naomi Price of London, England, who is an associate editor of the church's religious periodical.

Bethany Class hears Mrs. Gertie Ashford

"Visitation Go Ye" was the subject of devotions presented by Mrs. Gertie Ashford at the Bethany Class meeting Monday night at the First Baptist Church, Madison.

Opening prayer was offered by Mrs. Vasta Williams, class teacher.

The group sent cards to church members who are ill and the closing meditations were given by Mrs. Nora Birtley. Hostess Mrs. Mary Link served refreshments to those named and to Mesdames Mary Lassen, Naomi James, Hilda Jackson, Pauline Corey, Jerry Stein, Ethel Stone. The next gathering will be at the home of Mrs. Bernice Whitten.

THEFT FROM HOME
An undetermined amount of money and a calculator were stolen from a desk drawer in the living room of the home of Ruth Travis, 204 Bryan Ave., between 4 p.m. and 6 p.m. Monday. It could not be determined how long the items were in the home before the time the burglary occurred, authorities were told.

Secretaries fete members

Thirty-five senior and junior members of the Granite City High School Future Secretaries Association Chapter joined with members of the Tri-Cities Chapter, National Secretaries Association, for their annual banquet at Charlie's Restaurant last week.

The surprise announcement of the winner of the title Miss FSA 1976 was the highlight of the evening, and was presented to Miss Nancy Bezan. A Junior FSA award was also given to Miss Mary Miller.

The awards were based on an accumulation of points earned through the attendance at monthly chapter meetings, attendance at FSA workshops, participation in money raising projects, and providing refreshments at the monthly meeting.

Miss Bezan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bezan, 3145 Myrtle Ave. Miss Miller's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller, 256 Hemlock Ave.

The senior award was a $25 check and the Junior award was a charm bracelet from FSA. President Nancy Bezan introduced the new officers of the local FSA chapter who were elected at the last meeting. Mary Windfield, president, was participating in the Shrine Parade and unable to be present. Introduced were vice-president, Elaine Goetting; corresponding secretary, Lisa Camp; recording secretary, Lisa St. Ciri; treasurer, Kathleen DeRuntz; and board member at large, Donna Burke.

Following the presentation of awards an installation of the Tri-Cities Chapter was held. Mrs. Gail Foley will serve as president; Mrs. Joyce Savich, vice president; Miss Marsia Kraus, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lana Randolph, recording secretary; and Miss Jane Davis, treasurer.

There will be no meeting of the Tri-Cities Chapter in July, but the group will meet in August for a pot luck at the home of the president.

REV. ERWIN PRANGE

Rev. Prange to be speaker at Concordia

Concordia Lutheran Church at 33rd Street and Grand Avenue Sunday and Monday will host the Reverend Erwin Prange of Trinity Lutheran Church of Baltimore Md.

Pastor Prange believes that Christians themselves have much to learn about the removal of barriers to answered prayer. His morning guided message at 10:15 will concern itself with "Effectual Prayers" on Sunday evening at 7 and on Monday evening at 7 he will develop the concept of the "Family Covenant."

Pastor Prange is a graduate of Concordia Seminary in St. Louis, began his ministry in St. Louis County, served in Brooklyn, Montana and now is associate pastor at Trinity, Baltimore, serving principally as minister to the sick and distressed.

As the author of "The Gift Is Already Yours," the speaker tells of his search for meaning in his own ministry. The book, titled "The Family Covenant," which he later developed in a volume to be released this July.

We count it a privilege to have Pastor Prange in our midst, said Pastor Testemeyer, the host minister. He is a dynamic speaker at conferences and his sermons are always overflowing.

Anthony Cardwell, 71, dies

Anthony Cardwell, 71, of 1333 Rhodes St., Granite City, a lifelong resident of the Quad-Cities, died at 3:35 a.m. Wednesday, June 16, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital. He had been a patient there one month.

He retired 25 years ago as a driver at the American Car & Foundry in Madison.

Survivors include his widow, Irene Cardwell; three sons, Anthony Cardwell Jr., Granite City; Norman Cardwell of West Virginia; and Donald Cardwell of Essex, Mo.; one daughter, Mrs. Harold (Delores) Sifton of Venice; a stepson, Francis King of St. Louis; a sister, Mrs. Joseph (Helen) Luman of St. Louis; 18 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

The Way It Was -

June 13 - The Virginia Convention appoints commissioners to visit the lands of the late J. Lee Dumore and tell all of his slaves and personal property.

June 14 - Washington announces the need to restore military discipline in the troops and recover the trail and the equipment of the Canadian troops and troops.

June 15 - Hartford, Conn., residents decide that 18,000 blue rum prices are too high and that they will not pay more than four shillings and six pence per gallon.

June 16 - The battle ofunker Hill is recalled in Cambridge, Mass. "These reverses are sad and yet they are an element of thankfulness to our feelings."

June 19 - The Continental Congress recommends that the colonies arrange for the manufacture of a national and warlike, plus other apparatus.

June 20 - Washington encourages that the Indians be persuaded to attend as leaders must contact the Scout office for qualification in formation.

Members of the local Jambooree Committee are Robert Moore, Lester Becker, Benjamin Hartman, Graig Wheeler and Taylor.

would cost us more than $6 million instead of $5 million," he said.

Sparks said sale of revenue bonds would require that about $200,000 in interest be paid during the two years of construction, while general obligation bonds would require no interest or taxation until the sewers are completed.

He said revenue bonds also would have to be discounted to make them more attractive for sale. He related that five per cent discounting would increase the total of bonds which would have to be sold by $250,000.

"Now we are talking about $5,000,000 in revenue bonds instead of $5 million general obligation bonds. Payments on that amount of $247,000 a year, divided by 2,000 users, would amount to payments of about $122 per year for each sewer user," Sparks estimated.

He said another 1.5 per cent would have to be added for collection which, when broken into monthly payments, would cost each sewer user $24 per month plus $4 per month for operation and maintenance and sewage treatment for a total of $28 per month.

"How in the devil can we sell revenue bonds to anybody and tell them they will be repaid from $28 per month out of 2,000 homeowners? That's impossible," Sparks asserted.

He said there are as many as 3,500 potential sewer users in Area One, but "I doubt we would even get 2,800."

He continued, "The legislature, in its wisdom, made it impossible for us to have sewers if they want them."

"With general obligation bonds we are talking about 15-year bonds with taxes of about a $1.06 rate per $100 assessed valuation per year."

"Houses assessed at about $6,000 ($18,000 market value), which is about the average in Chouteau Township, would pay $63 per year, plus $4 per month for maintenance, operation and sewage treatment."

As far as the sewer committee is concerned, we are not ashamed of this program. We think it is the best program and the only program by which we can get sewers.

"If we don't pass this, we deny these people sewers," Sparks told the board.

The sewer committee met opposition from a few board members, including James Greene of East Alton. He displayed a letter from an EPA administrator and contended that laying off the bonds would not nullify the state grant.

Sparks noted again that the committee knows of no other program to raise the local share by the deadline.

"If someone knows of another plan, I hope they will let me know."

"Revenue bonds are not the answer and neither is collecting lump sum payments from every household to pay the entire local share of construction," the supervisor said.

Board Member Hays Mallory of Edwardsville said he was concerned about the county's ability to pay off the bonds if homeowners fail to pay their taxes.

Assistant Madison County State Attorney Don Smith said he has researched the issue and assured the board that the bonds and interest would be specifically state that the county is not obligated in any way.

Charles F. Bode of Edwardsville requested that Smith's comment be made a part of the County Board's official minutes. This was approved.

Homer Henke of Moro said several farmers want to know how they can be taken out of the proposed taxing districts and Sparks replied the committee contacted as many large landowners as possible.

He said, including Union Electric Co. which didn't want in the district had an opportunity to be taken out."

Sparks further noted that three farmers were eliminated from the proposed district and railroads were left out by their request.

Others outside of the proposed areas asked to be included, he said, including Union Electric Co., which has 1,500 acres in Chouteau Township, Illinois Power Co., which has large tracts of land in Alton, which owns a large farm at Route 111 and Interstate 270.

News notes

A political dispute over long-term appointments of defeated Gov. Dan Walker was largely resolved Tuesday with Senate committee approval of 66 Walker nominees, including Wayne Heberer of Belleville to the STU Board of Trustees.

Two Mexican policemen have admitted raping and killing St. Louis travel agent Sandra Fronczak and throwing her body into a marshy lake near Atapulco. Four Mexican civilians also are being sought for the killing of 28-year-old Mrs. Fronczak and another travel agent, Gary Semmelroth, 31, of Belleville.

The Illinois Department of Transportation has set aside $16.8 million to buy land in the Columbia-Waterloo area if the region is designated as the site for a new St. Louis area airport. Land acquisition for the project would get under way if U. S. Transportation Secretary William T. Coleman Jr. gives the go-ahead for the facility.

Attorney General Edward H. Levi said Wednesday the administration is considering seeking legislation which would set a five-year limit on court-ordered busing in communities which have made good-faith efforts to desegregate schools.

By a 43-1 margin Tuesday, the Illinois Senate voted to tighten some portions of the workmen's compensation law that were originally passed in 1975. The proposal would restrict liberalized benefits for common injuries and would place a limit on death benefits.

On a 30-17 vote Tuesday, the Illinois Senate passed and sent to Gov. Walter authorization for Southern Illinois University to spend $100,000 of tuition money on purchase of supplies and laboratory equipment.

Missouri sued Tuesday to block a federal law under which regional health planning systems were created in the St. Louis and Kansas City metropolitan areas.

The U. S. House of Representatives is expected to approve $125,000 in public works programs Tuesday, including $500,000 for construction in the Chain of Rocks navigation program and $4,000,000 for construction on a Mississippi River regulating structure.

Congressman Melvin Price announced Tuesday.

U.S. Ambassador Francis E. Meloy Jr., 59, his economic counselor, Robert O. Waring, 58, and their Lebanese chauffeur were shot to death while crossing the dangerous "no man's land" between Beirut's Muslim and Christian sectors Wednesday. They were enroute to peace talks with President-Elect Elias Sarkis in the Christian-held Hasmieh district.

The minimum wage in Illinois would jump 40 cents to $2.38-an-hour under legislation which has cleared the House by a 106 to 50 vote. The bill also extends minimum wage benefits to many thousands of employees of small business not presently covered and boost the wage rate of employees under 18 years of age by 40 cents to $1.95. If passed by the Senate, the new rates would go into effect Jan. 1.

as invalidated by the affidavits. The decision will be up to the County Board, Miss Bowles noted.

Sparks said the request for a state's attorney's opinion came in response to calls by a few Chouteau Township residents asking how they could have their names removed from anti-sewer petitions in light of new information they had received.

One Gorbe Subdivision woman also said she had been misled by information that had been used to convince her sons, home from college, to sign the anti-sewer petitions and they now wanted their names removed.

Sparks said he believes many people were misled into signing the petitions by persons contending the sewers could be financed better by sewer user fees than by taxation.

"We have shown them in every way possible that their monthly sewer fees would be excessive if we used revenue bonds (paid back by user fees) instead of general obligation bonds (paid by taxes), and the only practical way to finance the one-fourth local share of the sewers is through general obligation bonds," Sparks said.

Despite detailed financial articles in the Press-Record, leaflets comparing the only types of financing available in Nameeki and Chouteau townships, and talks made by sewer committee members at dozens of meetings explaining the possible financing alternatives, people continue to be misled into thinking the sewers can be financed other than through taxes, Sparks stated.

"We know many of the people obtaining signatures on the anti-sewer petitions are telling people a signature on the petition is not a vote against getting sewers, but is only a vote against using taxes to pay for the local share."

"The law is simply not true. If those opposing taxation for the sewers succeed in getting the signatures of 51 per cent of the property owners, they will kill the sewers."

here and even if the facts showed a better way to finance the local one-fourth of the cost of the sewers - which they do not - it still would be too late to come up with another financing plan and retain our fourth state grant," Sparks emphasized.

"We are urging people to get the facts, ignore the rumors being spread and then decide whether or not to sign the petitions. If they already have signed, we ask they to reconsider this most important decision and then to contact us immediately if they want their names stricken from the petitions."

"We tell sure there are more people out there who now regret signing the petitions who have not made their change of mind known to us. If they want make themselves known right away so we can keep them from

opposes merger of United Way

The Tri-City Trades and Labor Council, AFL-CIO voted unanimously last night to oppose merger to combine the Tri-Cities Area and Alton Area United Way agencies.

It was noted the Alton agency has never used a community service representative which serves the labor community and it would be impossible for the community service representative to service the proposed combined area.

The community service committee of the labor council will meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday to select a nominee for this year's community service representative on the United Way. Candidates will be interviewed at that time at the Labor Temple. A recommendation then will be made at the next council meeting.

Also at last night's meeting, all the present officers were nominated without opposition to serve another term. Council members will be asked July 21 to elect them by acclamation.

BURGLARY ON EDISON The home of Paul Crake, 2036 Edison Ave., was burglarized and ransacked between 8 a.m. and 8:30 a.m. Wednesday. The door knob was broken off the back door to gain entry. Crake was preparing a list of items stolen.

killing the sewers when they really want them," he emphasized.

Opponents of the sewer project began last night to distribute leaflets containing what Sparks called "exaggerated figures to try and scare people into signing the petitions."

The leaflets allege the cost for the first year's taxes on a home assessed at $10,000 ($30,000 market value) would be $360 and people will have to pay $8 to $10 per foot to have a sewer line installed from their homes to the new sewers.

Sparks disagreed with the figures, noting the taxes in the first year will be higher than in subsequent years, but should not exceed $2.06 per $100 valuation, or $206 for a home assessed at $10,000.

He also said the average cost to have deep home sewers installed now is only $6 per foot and should be cheaper for homes here because the sewers will be shallow.

He warned residents to either ignore the leaflets now being distributed or to contact either township office for the correct figures before signing anti-sewer petitions on the basis of figures shown in the leaflets.

"We feel people having the correct figures will understand what all our work has shown - we have been working all this time to come up with sewers at the lowest possible cost to each resident and we are sure we are the best possible method to finance the local share of the sewer construction," he concluded.

Graduate option offered

A specialization in gerontology, offered as a free-standing graduate option at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, was authorized Thursday by the SIU Board of Trustees.

University officers said the specialization has been initiated in response to the increasing need for specialized training in aging for students who plan to work either directly or indirectly with the elderly.

No new degree title, certificate or program is created by the board action. Funding for the specialization will be accomplished through reallocation of University resources during the initial year of implementation, fiscal year 1977.

Beginning in fiscal 1978 minimal state funding will be necessary to maintain the specialization. University officers said Federal grant funds are being sought to support the specialization.

According to University research, the number of elderly persons in Illinois in general, and in this area in particular, has been increasing rapidly in recent years. Presently, Illinois is one of five states in the United States with more than one million persons aged 65 or over. Although 9.9 per cent of the population in Illinois is 65 or over, in this region, 12.3 per cent of the population is 65 or over.

University officers said a severe lack of personnel, both professional and paraprofessional, trained in the problems of the aging, exists in the region SIUE serves. The shortage is attributed to insufficient training opportunities and programs.

A student in any graduate program at SIUE will be permitted entry to the specialization in gerontology, with the consent and approval of the student's department or unit. Courses will be designed to provide students a working knowledge of the basic processes of aging; the needs, characteristics and problems of the aging; programs, services and resources available to the aging; and an off-campus practicum experience utilizing agencies and institutions serving the elderly.

The specialization was initiated by the Committee on Gerontology of the Office of the Vice-President and Provost. It has been reviewed, approved and recommended by the dean of the Graduate School, the University Senate and other University officers.

New animal shelter facility planned by protective group

The Association for Protection of Animals, a non-profit humane group operated by volunteer teens, is seeking contributions from the public and area businesses to help construct a new shelter facility. Currently located on the grounds of the Granite City Army Installation, the shelter and its occupants must be relocated within 90 days, according to Mrs. Carol Willoughby, an APA officer. Donations are urgently needed to set up a similar facility elsewhere within easy access to the Quad-Cities. Mrs. Willoughby said Space on a vacant piece of property may be available to the APA if sufficient funds to construct a suitable building can be obtained, she reported. Area residents also are being urged to adopt an animal from the shelter to reduce the number of pets in the event a new facility can not be found prior to the 90-day closing notice. A few dogs remain at the shelter, but most of the pets under APA care are cats and kittens. A special adoption clinic is planned Saturday, from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the APA temporary shelter, adjacent to Gasen Drugs in Nameoki Village Shopping Center. "If anyone has a facility we could use on an emergency or semi-permanent basis we would appreciate a telephone call," Mrs. Willoughby said. She may

Malpractice on Illinois Bar agenda

Medical malpractice, merit selection of judges, and mandatory continuing legal education are three of the issues to be considered at the 100th annual meeting of the Illinois State Bar Association June 20-23. Seven hundred persons are expected to attend the meetings at The Abbey at Lake Geneva in Wisconsin.

The 44-member governing Assembly of the ISBA will convene on Tuesday, June 22, with the following items on its agenda: Medical malpractice - The Assembly will hear a report from the chairman of the ISBA Committee on Interprofessional Cooperation, which has been working with the medical profession for over a year to find legislative solutions to the medical malpractice problem. Merit selection - The Illinois State Bar Association has long supported a merit system for selecting and retaining state judges. The Assembly should consider support of specific proposals for implementing merit selection through constitutional amendment and Supreme Court rule changes. Mandatory continuing legal education - The Assembly will debate whether Illinois lawyers should be required to continue their education after admission to the practice of law. Two states, Minnesota and Iowa, now have such a requirement and it is under consideration by a number of other states. Availability of legal services - The ISBA Assembly will consider creating an Illinois Legal Services Fund to provide economical legal services to middle-income consumers. Prepaid or group legal services could be obtained, much in the same way most consumers now receive medical services through an insurance-type program, a spokesman said. The Assembly is the policy-making body of the Illinois State Bar Association, a professional association of 18,000 lawyers. ISBA President Pro Tem Francis J. Householder of Kankakee will preside at the Assembly meeting, which begins at 9:15 a.m. next Tuesday. Householder will be sworn in for a full one-year term as president of the association at the annual dinner that evening.

Loan fund for dental students

A new short-term loan fund, the International College of Dentists Loan Fund, has been established with the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Foundation, according to Charles Schweizer, director of the foundation. The loan fund was established at the university by the International College of Dentists and will provide short-term loans to dental students in their last year at SIUE School of Dental Medicine, Schweizer said. Students will be able to borrow up to a maximum of $300. The short-term loans must be repaid within 90 days of the lending date. All monies from the loan fund must also be repaid prior to the student's matriculation or graduation, Schweizer said. Applications for the loans will be processed through the Office of Student Affairs at the SIUE School of Dental Medicine, with final action on the loans made by the SIUE Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance, Schweizer said.

Three hurt in Hartford crash

Vickie Marler, 13, of 208 Briarwood Drive, has undergone surgery this week at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Two injuries suffered in an accident on Route 3 in Hartford last week. She was a passenger in the car of her brother, Ronnie G. Marler, 1810 August St., Apt. 1, which was involved in an accident with the auto of Frank C. Moore, 85 Hartford, who was injured fatally in the crash. Vickie Marler suffered a broken right arm and facial injuries. Another passenger in the car, Mrs. Christine Marler, wife of Ronnie Marler, suffered a broken right arm, but was released following treatment at the hospital. Ronnie Marler also was treated for injuries.

More than 200 seek presidency at SIUE

More than 200 applications have been received for the position of president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, but the Presidential Search Committee is "on or ahead of schedule" in the search procedure, according to a report to the SIUE Board of Trustees Thursday by W. Deane Wiley, chairman of the committee.

Wiley said the 13-member committee is holding weekly meetings and the screening of candidates has been under way since May 11. Applications for the position were accepted until June 4. The chairman said the first screening operation was completed Friday.

The committee adopted a code of operational policies and procedures which were reviewed with heads of various constituent organizations of the University on May 24. Regular reports on committee actions have been submitted to the University community since the first meeting of the search committee on April 30.

Wiley said the committee has assembled an "informational packet" covering a variety of information about the University. The packet will be distributed to candidates "who become serious finalists in the screening process."

Wiley reported a letter of "disavowal of candidacy" for the presidency was signed by all 11 members of the committee, and the letter has been accepted and filed with the board of trustees.

The Search Committee is charged with reviewing all candidates for president and submitting a list of recommended candidates to the board without indication of preference. The board will make the final selection and appointment of the president.

Guidelines for the Search Committee were approved by the board in March, following the death of President John S. Rendleman. March 4. The board also appointed Andrew J. Koehnman, who had been vice president and provost at SIUE since 1971 to serve as acting president until a new president is selected.

Mission appeal

The Society for the Propagation of the Faith has announced its summer appeal program for educating native seminarians in missionary activities.

The difficulty facing the Mission Church, according to the Rev. Kevin B. Sullivan, Springfield Catholic diocese mission director, is not the lack of vocations. They are there in abundance. Rather, it is the ability to support the young men in their six-year course of study.

At the end of 1975 there were 260 students in 297 minor seminaries and 9,806 students in 46 major seminaries under the direction of the Society. In addition, there were 631 orphans in the priesthood. 297 of them were African. 299 were Asian.

During the past year $1,000,000 was expended for new seminarian facilities and improvements on existing ones. $100,000 was used to clothe, feed and educate the seminarians.

To meet their needs this year the Society must raise over $15 million or get the average layman about $200 per student. Compared to the high cost of education in our own country, Fr. Sullivan says this is a financial blessing.

Chouteau budget hearing Monday

A public hearing will begin at 7 p.m. Monday on the proposed 1976-77 fiscal year town fund, general assistance and federal revenue sharing budgets for Chouteau Township.

The proposed budgets total $200,370, which is $26,615 more than last year's budgets, but $20,000 of the increase is from a higher level of revenue sharing since most of last year's money in that fund was not spent and was carried over into this year's budget.

All of the township's revenue sharing funds in the last three years have been earmarked for a proposed town hall and community center building and only a small portion of the money has been spent for planning and designing the building.

A total of $65,000 was appropriated for revenue sharing last year, but the majority of it was carried over into this year's budget for a new total of $85,000, including estimated receipts of slightly more than $20,000.

Town fund appropriations rose only $740 from last year as $66,570 is in the proposed budget as compared to $65,830 last year.

Surpluses carried over in the general assistance budget caused it to rise from $42,850 last year to $48,800 this year, a $5,950 increase, but that will not be reflected in higher collections since general assistance is supported by a tax levy which has been at its maximum of 10 cents per $100 of assessed valuation for many years.

Expenditures from the general assistance fund exceeding the local tax income is reimbursed by the state.

Town fund appropriations in the proposed budget include $64,045 for administration, $2,025 for elections, and $500 for contingencies.

General assistance appropriations include $10,600 for administration, $28,600 for home relief, $9,100 for institutional care and $500 for contingencies.

The public hearing Monday evening will be held at the township offices at 825 Thorngate Drive, Mitchell, and will be followed by a special meeting of the Town Board of Auditors, at which the budget is expected to be approved as the only order of business.

Lots of cats, kittens for adoption Saturday

The Association for Protection of Animals (APA) will hold a Pet Adoption Clinic from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. Saturday at the humane group's adoption shelter, adjacent to Gasco Street in Nameoki Village Shopping Center.

June 18 Cat and Kitten Month, according to Mrs. Carol Willoughby, an APA supervisor, who said several cats and kittens will be featured at this week's clinic.

Part of the Month for June is "Waldo," an adult male, neutered cat, which is very friendly, handsome and has a great personality. Mrs. Willoughby said.

Waldo was found several months ago with his foot caught in a trap and required two of his toes to be amputated. The foot is completely healed and "Waldo" is ready for adoption.

The supervisor said a gray tiger-striped Persian, also a neutered male, which belongs in a home without other pets and would not be suitable for school children, will be available.

Another animal is a cream-colored female cat with yellow eyes who needs affection and is very friendly. The APA officer reported "We have many kittens in assorted colors. The adult available is a half-Scottie named 'Grizzly,' who is an excellent guard dog. The adult male requires a home without young children or other pets."

Adults ready for adoption is a half-Scottie female, about 4 months old which is very friendly and would be great with youngsters.

The non-profit organization, which is being forced to move its permanent shelter from the Granite City Army Installation within 30 days, must find homes for all the animals in its care before the deadline. It cannot accept any additional animals, Mrs. Willoughby said.

A fund has been established to help build another facility and the public is being asked to send contributions. Mrs. Willoughby explained Temporary quarters also are being sought, she said.

Persons willing to aid the humane group are invited to contact Mrs. Willoughby at 896-6288 for information, or mail donations to APA, Post Office Box 131, Granite City, Ill. 62040.

Fill openings at River Fest

Officials of the Mississippi River Festival, held on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, have announced the additional changes in the Festival's schedule. Edgar and Johnny Winter will fill the July 14 date made vacant by the change in schedule of Harry Chapin, and Frankie Valli and the Four Seasons will fill the Aug. 21 date originally scheduled for the Bee Gees.

"We were most fortunate to be able to get the Winter brothers together for the mid-July date," said MRP Director Lyle Ward. They are outstanding artists individually, of course, and having them work together should make for an outstanding show.

The Frankie Valli and the Four Seasons show Ward added "is a fine replacement for the Bee Gees, who ran into visa trouble and had to drop their planned summer U.S. tour and return to Australia." Frankie Valli and the Four Seasons have been steady rock hit makers since the mid 1960's, with such rock classics as "Cherry," "Big Girls Don't Cry," "Let's Hang On," "Rag Doll," and many more. The group is currently enjoying a resurgence in popularity with recent hits such as "Oh What A Night" and "Who Loves You."

Elect Clark chief judge

The circuit judges of the Third Judicial Circuit, consisting of Madison and Bond Counties, have elected Harold R. Clark chief judge for the coming fiscal year. He will succeed Judge Joseph J. Barr whose term will expire June 30.

Judge Clark has been a circuit judge since 1966, and has previously served as chief judge of this circuit. After graduating from the University of Illinois Law School, he was admitted to the Bar in 1941. He entered private practice after serving four years in the Army during World War II.

JUDGE R. CLARK
Named chief judge

Judge Clark announced that Judge William Beatty and Judge Moses Harrison will continue in the criminal division for the coming year, as in the past, the trial of criminal cases will be given priority over civil cases, and additional judges will be assigned to criminal jury trials as needed, he said.

Judge Barr will return to the civil division along with Circuit Judges John Grichoff, Verter Mosier, and Horace Calvo. Judge John DeLaurentis will be presiding in Bond County. The associate judges of the circuit will continue with their present assignments until September 1, at which time new assignments will be announced. Judge Clark resides in Alton with his wife Mary. Their children are Bill, attending Chicago Medical School, Tom, an engineering student at the University of Illinois, Jane who is enrolled at Purdue University, and Sarah, 10, at home.

County faces money problems

Edward Voumard, chairman of the finance committee of the Madison County Board, issued a stiff warning to County Board members Monday that county funds are rapidly becoming depleted and it is the responsibility of every board member and every department head to keep expenses down.

Voumard's comments came in response to several fund transfers which depleted the county's working cash fund. He noted, "With these transfers, the working cash fund is now depleted and it will be some time before new taxes are received."

"The detention home now has no cushion and they might have a $15,000 deficit by the end of the fiscal year. We are talking about a special tax or the money may have to come from the general fund which already is going to have a large deficit."

Voumard also issued a general statement on county finances in which he noted the trimmed 1976 fiscal year budget gave all the county could afford in each department of county government.

"This plan, as any plan, is always open to critical evaluation, but it is one we felt gave this county the best hope for the future in coping with the serious financial straits."

"It was designed to provide more latitude and free will of action in the future for the members of this board."

"As this plan is further eroded and diluted, the free will of action diminishes."

"Example — By law we are not allowed to be involved in deficit financing. Therefore, the negative fund balance occurring at the end of the year will have to be satisfied first when new taxes are received."

"Latitude is dramatically restricted. Then if this pattern of action is not reversed eventually, whole county operations will be eliminated — not by action but by inaction. We, the finance committee, stand ready to explain our rationale at any given time and improve any county official to present enlightened information to us, should our position not seem logical, or present alternative plans."

Voumard did support a $28,000 emergency appropriation to keep operations at the current level in the Madison County state's attorney's office, noting the extra money is being created by extra office staff, following through the suits and other income-producing actions for the county.

State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron said the money is needed to retain the personnel the office now has and to add some additional personnel, due to the workload.

He also said mid-year raises in the budget for four assistant state's attorneys just completing their bar examinations also must come from the emergency appropriation and $118,000 left in his budget.

"It is necessary at this time to receive an emergency appropriation to assure these people can work the remainder of the year, or we will have to lay some of them off," Byron told the board.

Several board members objected to the emergency appropriation, saying it should not be requested until all available funds within the department had been expended and an emergency existed. Byron answered it is necessary to assure these attorneys continued work through the end of the fiscal year and noted, "We are in danger of losing valuable, experienced people."

Voumard also noted a turnover of people within that office would cost valuable training time when the workload already is heavy.

Voumard said if Byron decreases his staff to meet his personnel budget, it would be necessary for him to hire special private prosecutors for some pressing civil cases which would have to be paid with fees totaling about $25,000 to $50,000 per year, which the county board would be obligated to pay.

Byron also explained state statutes would allow him to establish a special fund for the state's attorney's office and deposit all income generated by that office into that fund, rather than giving it to the county's general fund. "I have never asked that this statute be enforced, but it is one alternative," he noted.

He noted the emergency appropriation he requested is less than the income his office will generate in the next few months. Since that money has not yet been budgeted, the emergency appropriation will be from non-appropriated funds and will not reduce the county's general fund or working cash fund.

Five board members voted against granting the emergency funds at this time while 21 voted to approve the funds.

Disqualified in U.S. food stamp program

Mert's Confectionery, 721 Twenty-sixth St., has been disqualified from the federal Food Stamp program for violations, the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) announced Wednesday.

The store, owned by Myrtle Roberts, was charged with obtaining food coupons for ineligible items.

Disqualification will last for 30 days, beginning June 8.

The owner may apply for reinstatement of the store in the Food Stamp Program to take effect at or after the end of the disqualification period. However, until the store is reinstated, it may not accept food coupons.

Dennis M. Doyle, midwest regional administrator of the USDA's Food and Nutrition Service, which administers the program, explained that by law food coupons can be used only to buy food for human consumption, and seeds and plants for use in gardens to produce food for the personal consumption of the eligible household.

Food stores participating agree in advance to abide by the regulations. Any store that breaks the law or regulations, and anyone who pressures a store to do so, weakens and endangers the whole program established to combat hunger and malnutrition, Doyle noted.

5 injured in two-car crash

Two persons were injured when the cars of Pamela Best, 17, of 3005 E. 23rd St., and Susan Raynor, 17, of 4024 Old Alton Road, collided on Nameoki Road at East 27th Street Monday.

Miss Best was examined at x-rayed at St. Elizabeth's Hospital and was released. Child in her car, Wyndy Best, of the same address, suffered minor injuries which did not require hospital treatment here.

Two passengers in Susan Raynor's auto also were hurt. Cheryl Pace, 22, of 41 Division St., was taken to an ambulance to the hospital as x-rayed for injuries to her chin and right knee. Her sister, James Pace, 3, who was thrown from the rear seat into the front seat, was x-rayed and released with minor injuries.

Wheat allotment requests due

Farms without a wheat allotment may have an allotment for the 1977 program year established if they meet eligibility requirements. A application for a new farm wheat allotment must be filed with the county Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service office at Edwardsville by July 1, 1976.

Wheat allotments for 1977 are automatically established for all eligible old wheat farms. The new farm provision applies on to farms that do not have an allotment.

To be eligible for a new farm allotment, neither the owner nor operator of the farm must have an interest in any other farm which had a wheat allotment established for 1976.

The applicant must have experience in producing wheat in any prior year. The operator must expect to obtain more than 50 percent of his 1977 income from farming. The farm in which an application is filed must be suitable for wheat production without undue erosion.

Any interested producer can meet these requirements by contacting the ASCS Office or an application by the filing date.

Area Two (State Park Place) and Area Three (Eagle Park, Cloverleaf and East Madison) by Monday's deadline, but Miss Bowles now must certify whether the petitions are valid and meet the 51 per cent requirement in both the registered voter and property owner classifications.

Opponents of Area One (from Stallings area north through Pontoon Beach and Mitchell and then east to the Granite City Army Installation) have until 5 p.m. Monday to file anti-sewer district petitions.

Miss Bowles explained that although the Area Two and Area Three petitions are still valid at least one more week to certify whether they are sufficient to block creation of those taxing districts.

She said key punch cards are being made for each registered voter and each property owner in the districts and other key punch cards are being made for each person who signed the petitions. The cards then will be fed into a computer which will determine if 51 per cent of the persons in each class signed the petitions.

If anti-sewer district petitions are submitted by Monday for Area One, it will take much longer to determine if they are valid, Miss Bowles said.

THEFT FROM STOREHOOM

Two cases of paper towels, two cases of cleanser, two cases of soap, three metal trash cans, a quantity of trash-can liners and two cases of insect repellent were stolen from a storehouse at the Terminal Railroad Association yard office, 19th Street and the railroad tracks, between Sunday and Tuesday. A pane of glass in the front storehouse door was broken to gain entry.

Area values

increase of $418,250 over last year's value.

The values give the county a total 1975 property valuation of $1,061,696,764, up from last year's $1,022,387,344, for a total county assessment increase of $39,309,420.

Late completion of assessment books this year resulted from Board of Review action to adjust assessments under a new state law requiring that assessment ratios be established at 33.33 per cent of fair cash value.

Increases in valuations of rural properties, some of which have been as low as 17 per cent of fair cash value, resulted in a flood of complaints and applications for review board hearings.

Completion of these hearings delayed preparation of assessment books and is expected to result in a delay in distribution of tax bills until mid-August.

Tax collection usually begins in late May or early June.

Extension of the new county tax rate of 58.3 cents per $100 assessed valuation included tax levies in three accounts for which there were no rates last year. Rates for five of the county's 19 separate accounts showed increases, while the rates of ten other accounts showed slight decreases.

The general fund rate is extended at 11.52 cents per $100 assessed valuation, up from 10 cents last year, while the new rates include 82 of one cent for civil defense, 10 of one cent for the county museum and 2.36 cents for the working cash fund.

A breakdown of the new county rate, with last year's rate shown in parenthesis, follows:

General fund 11.52 cents (10 cents); tuberculosis clinic .82 of one cent (same); Highway 9.37 cents (8.11 cents); special bridge 2.34 cents (2.02 cents); retirement 9.41 cents (8.33 cents); veterans assistance 1.38 cents (1.67 cents); civil defense .82 of one cent (none); museum 10 of one cent (none); bonds and interest (jail) 3.54 cents (3.99 cents); county audit .20 of one cent (.21 of one cent).

Maps and plats .76 of one cent (.84 of one cent); highway federal aid matching tax 2.59 cents (2.83 cents); detention home 1.45 cents (1.44 cents); detention home bonds and interest .22 of one cent (.23 of one cent); mental health 5 cents (.65 cents); election expense .95 of one cent (.99 of one cent); supervisor of assessment 1.53 cents (1 cent); property recording system .56 of one cent (1.97 cents); working cash fund 2.36 cents (none).

MARRIAGE ENCOUNTER MEETING SET SUNDAY

A newly organized group to be known as Marriage Encounter United Church of Christ will hold an informational meeting at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, according to the minister, the Rev. Robert Kestelhub.

The meeting is open to the public and the group is offering more information at 951-2887 the pastor added.

CAR IS STOLEN

The 1971 brown over light yellow Ford LTD four-door auto of Sharon Gordon, Capeville, was stolen from the parking lot of St. Mary, 3700 Nameoki Road, about 9:45 p.m. Tuesday.

"Trouble Waters" teen film Sunday

A harrying raft trip down the Yankin River in Colorado provides both "spectacular scenery and high adventure" in the teenage dramatic film, "Trouble Waters," to be shown Sunday at the 5:30 p.m. youth service at Tri-City Park Tabernacle, 2501 Buenger Blvd.

The Rev. Dennis Woodruff, associate pastor, said all young people are invited to attend the performance.

"Trouble Waters" tells the story of Steve, an uptight teenager who "has had it with the establishment." According to the Rev. Woodruff, "At best, he would like to give God low profile consideration in his life, but can't quite rule out Divine design in the beauty which surrounds him."

During the week-long float down the rampaging river, Steve tumbles overboard and is swept away by rapids and very nearly drowns, the minister explained.

"I never swam so hard in my life," Steve argues in the film, supposedly to thank God for getting me out alive, then why not thank him for pushing me in the first place?

The youth's search for answers to such questions gives the film special relevance to modern youth, the Rev. Woodruff said.

Wise decision to concentrate on community's needs and to improve procedures and agency services here

The board of directors of the Tri-Cities Area 1 voted May wisely decided Tuesday against continuing a specific merger study of whether to explore consolidations or structural improvements will be placed on the board agenda next winter.

Merger with the Alton area EW association would have removed from the Quad Cities an adequate voice in fostering community services and monitoring the performance of the service agencies. It was openly described as a mechanism for triggering later agency managers that

Impressive stand by County Board on providing sewers

Madison County Board members deserve commendation for being willing to take a clear stand in favor of the installation of sanitary sewers in local unincorporated areas.

There was no other sponsoring agency that had the specific state-granted authority to implement the needed program. Documents and funds will exempt the county and all unaffiliated members from any liability.

It will be recalled that at the initial public hearing on the proposal the County Board voted 20-0 for the project. And April following this due to the impact of fiscal constraints, but at this week's crucial votes

Continued deficit funding perilous to welfare of all

Washing, D.C. Bureau of Economic Analysis, the director of the Bureau of Economic Analysis, said in a report that the nation's economy is "in a state of continued deficit funding, which is perilous to the welfare of all."

As Madison and the Quad Cities Association of Governments, the rate of unemployment growth over the last year has been unprecedented.

In fact, Madison is the only city in the Quad Cities area that is not in a state of economic decline. It is the only city in the Quad Cities area that is not in a state of economic decline.

Every economist has his own method of drawing conclusions from economic statistics. No economist would ignore them altogether, however, and we are wondering if Congress is listening when Madison and others provide their data.

The budget targets set by Congress for the 1976 fiscal year seem to be based on old sets of figures and old disregard theories.

House and Senate budget committees have agreed to set $41.3 billion as their target for the federal budget for the fiscal year beginning next Oct. 1. That's $17.5 billion higher than what President Ford proposed in January, calling for an incredible deficit of more than $40 billion. The excuse offered for this indulgence in deficit spending is that the economy is going to need "stimulating" in 1977.

True enough, Americans right now are having the labor force unemployment rate fall from 7.5 percent to 7.1 percent. The economic growth which has taken hold will have to become stronger in order to whittle down that figure.

But with the momentum evident in the performance of the last few months there is reason to believe that such strength will materialize.

Another statistic that Congress may be ignoring comes from the inflation indicators. Wholesale prices which had held steady for five months jumped by eight-tenths of a percentage point in April, following increases in retail prices late this year.

The relief from inflation which consumers have welcomed—a relatively mild 2.4 percent increase in retail prices for the first quarter of this year—may be in jeopardy.

To program a $40 billion excess into the budget in inflationary Congress can take another look at prospective spending programs before setting a final budget for 1977.

The next four months also can give members of Congress time to take a closer look at what is happening in the real world of the U.S. economy.

Other legislation with mail fraud in connection with legislation adverse to the rental car industry.

It is possible that the Hanahan attack and other efforts to discredit Thompson in the Kermer matter could backfire and help him more than hurt him.

There was a deep groundswell of sympathy for Kermer at the time of his death. But this was an emotional response which probably will not be sustained indefinitely.

By contrast, it is more than likely that the Thompson case as a man who has vigorously enforced the law and sent prominent politicians to prison will linger throughout the campaign.

Economic development in Southwestern Illinois being tallied in billions of dollars

(Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission)

Contrary to many people's perceptions, the economic development of Southwestern Illinois is progressing at a strong rate.

In recent years, there has been well in excess of $1,000,000,000 spent by public and private entities on major development projects such as the Kaskaskia navigation project, Interstate 64, St. Clair Square, Cottonwood Station and various industrial expansions.

Major projects anticipated to be undertaken in the next few years, such as the reconstruction of Alton lock and dam, Chapel Spring development and the Coalton plant will result in investments exceeding $2,500,000,000.

Much of the development which is occurring is growth-generating—that is, it serves to support and encourage additional ancillary development.

Take, for example, the Kaskaskia navigation project. An initial investment of approximately $120,000,000 has contributed to the decision to locate the Coalton gasification plant at New Athens at an initial investment of $260,000,000.

Further, the income brought into the region will serve to provide additional employment opportunities in the service and retail sectors of the economy.

The products of this overall development will be a reduction in high levels of unemployment in selected areas, increased employment opportunities, and improvement of income levels in the region.

The U.S. Economic Development Administration (EDA) has provided technical and financial assistance on a number of major development projects in the region.

Belleville's downtown redevelopment project, Civic Memorial Airport's business park and Tri-City Ports industrial park are each receiving assistance from EDA.

Recently, EDA approved a grant to the City of East St. Louis for improvements to the existing water pollution control center.

The project will serve to upgrade the quality of treatment of the plant to an acceptable level and thereby resolve an industrial development constraint and pollution problem in the area.

EDA works with SIMAPCO on a technical project level and with individual county overall economic development program committees on matters relating to project priority identification.

It is anticipated that Southwestern Illinois will be designated as an Economic Development District in 1977-78.

Designated as an Economic Development District by EDA will improve the region's development potential.

The Tri-City Regional Port District is currently developing a new dry-bulk barge loading facility and a 130-acre industrial park at an estimated cost of over $3 million.

The state of Illinois and the Economic Development Administration are assisting in the financing of portions of the overall project.

Currently, TCRPD handles in excess of one million tons of liquid bulk and general cargo annually at the 5,000-foot harbor located on the Chain of Rocks Canal at Granite City.

Materials shipped at the port are primarily products of the Illinois agricultural and manufacturing industries where products received are raw products for local manufacturers.

The state's plans include development of new harbor and industrial land facilities within the district.

The remaining 13½ acres of the Stephen Maers Industrial Park in Madison will be offered for sale on bids.

The City Council, at its meeting Monday night, gave approval for the sale of the park area.

The City Council reserved the right to refuse any and all bids and to not approve any bid that does not call for erecting some type of factory on it. The tract is the 65 acres included in the original industrial park area.

Third Ward Alderman Ronald Graywack said he has been receiving complaints of youths causing problems on Kennedy Drive. "Some apparently are stealing things and then running away from the street and hiding in the high weeds," he said. "The area needs to be leveled and the weeds cut down. I also would like to ask for increased police patrols in that area."

Mayor Sasyk concurred with Alderman's request. He referred the matter to Superintendent of Streets Elmer Smith and Chief of Police Frank Dutko.

Second Ward Alderman Richard Kiser inquired if Sasyk could give the Alderman a progress report on the Collinsville Avenue project.

"We have had some problems with the contractor, but I met with him last week and he said equipment is due in this week and paving should start next week," Sasyk said.

James Madison statue unveiled in ceremony

A life-sized statue of James Madison, fourth president of the United States after whom Madison County was named, was unveiled in the lobby of the Madison County Courthouse Monday afternoon by the artist, David C. Huntley of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagauer of Granite City, chairman of the Madison County Bicentennial Commission, acted as master of ceremonies.

Huntley, chairman of the Madison County Bicentennial Commission, unveiled the life-sized statue of the former president, shown holding a copy of the Bill of Rights to the U.S. Constitution.

The orchestra played several patriotic selections and the county's Bicentennial theme song was sung. It was composed by Mrs. Gayla Stuart.

Hagauer presented certificates of appreciation to persons and firms who had aided in relocating the courthouse lobby.

Speakers included Louis Whitsell of Naomeki Township, chairman of the Madison County Bicentennial Commission, Dr. Andrew Kochman, acting president of SIUE, and Nelson Hagauer of Granite City, chairman of the Madison County Bicentennial Commission.

Les Probst of Bethalto, a member of the committee, acted as master of ceremonies. Huntley, chairman of the Madison County Bicentennial Commission, unveiled the life-sized statue of the former president, shown holding a copy of the Bill of Rights to the U.S. Constitution.

CAPITOL COMMENT Governor's race getting rougher

By Ken Watson

SPRINGFIELD — There are increasing predictions that the campaign for governor will be even rougher than that better Democratic primary.

That despite the fact that the two candidates, Democrat Michael J. Hewitt and Republican James H. Thompson, are close friends.

But it is becoming doubtful whether this friendship can indefinitely withstand the pressures of a hot political fight.

It is not likely that Thompson and Hewitt will reach the latter name-calling stage that marked the Hewitt primary battle with Gov. Dan Walker.

There won't have to be fierce partisans in both the Republican and Democratic ranks will provide the modulating.

Democrats have a partisan interest in holding on to the governor's office, but even in Republican ranks there is some reluctance among regular politicians to see a former federal prosecutor with a record of sending politicians to jail, occupying the state's top office. Thompson's major problem in the campaign to date has been to become better known downstate. His long series of prosecutions in Chicago have made his name and face familiar in that area. However, he remains pretty much of an unknown elsewhere in Illinois.

But this is rapidly being changed in a strange way. Some Thompson fans are trying to picture him in the voters' eyes as the villain in the tragic story of the late Gov. Dan Walker.

This generally underground effort surfaced at a Springfield meeting of the Democratic County Chairman's Association.

The attack was made by the Association President, State Rep. Thomas Hanahan of McHenry, who accused Thompson of being "deviant" in prosecuting Kermer not only in the "principal" of the race track scandal.

Hanahan was not an especially good choice to mount a Democratic attack on Thompson. For Hanahan himself is facing trial on a Thompson-embroiled case of alleged bribery and is accused of charging him and an other legislator with mail fraud in connection with legislation adverse to the rental car industry.

It is possible that the Hanahan attack and other efforts to discredit Thompson in the Kermer matter could backfire and help him more than hurt him.

There was a deep groundswell of sympathy for Kermer at the time of his death. But this was an emotional response which probably will not be sustained indefinitely.

An announcement Wednesday by Gov. Dan Walker that Granite City schools could lose $292,392 in state-aid reimbursements during the next school year under a proposed new funding formula was termed "comparing apples to oranges," by local school officials contacted by the Press-Record.

B. J. Davis, superintendent of Granite City public schools, said yesterday that under the proposed formula, the district actually will receive $400,000 more in state aid next year than it did last year. He noted Walker's figures compare the new formula totals, already trimmed by the state, to what would be "full funding" under the old state-aid reimbursement formula.

Since districts have not received full funding in several years and faced an across-the-board percentage cut of their state-aid reimbursements last school year, full funding under the old formula was not predicted for the 1976-77 school year.

Davis said while $9.4 million would be full funding for the Granite City schools, the district realistically was predicting only about $9.1 million for the next school year.

Walker's office announced the Granite City district would receive $9,178,474 if the new formula bill is passed, which is $400,000 more than was received last year under the old formula after it was cut by Walker.

"It is still not clear at this time what effect the new bill will have on the local district since there are several computer printouts floating around Springfield and each one has different figures. The governor has one set, the legislators have another, the state superintendent of education has another and so on. No one knows exactly what we are talking about," Davis commented.

He said State Sen. Joe Lucio (D-Edwardsville), first of the Granite City schools, the new formula would increase the district's reimbursements about $700,000 over last year, but later modified that to about $400,000.

After Walker's announcement, I contacted Sen. Lucio and State Sen. J. Sam Vadalabene and asked them to try to get accurate figures and act accordingly in our best interests," Davis said.

Davis noted Sen. Vadalabene assured him efforts would be made to delay a vote in the Senate on the bill until the true effects of the bill were known.

House Bill 3518, calling for a new state-aid reimbursement formula, has passed the House and was approved by the Senate Education Committee Tuesday. Action by the full Senate is expected before the legislature ends its session June 30.

While legislators are predicting a favorable affect on downstate schools from the new formula, the Walker spokesmen predicted cuts in state-aid reimbursements for Granite City and Venice schools while Madison would receive an increase of $83,287.

Walker's figures show Madison would receive $1,988,236, an $83,287 increase over the present state-aid formula, while Venice would receive $59,333, a $3,250 decrease.

The new formula utilizes many factors in determining state-aid reimbursements, including the average daily attendance, the tax rate, the assessed valuation, the level of population density, the tax rate for transportation, and others.

Walker sources estimated Chicago could lose $2 million in state aid under the new formula, but a companion bill following it, guaranteeing Chicago at least as much state aid as it received last year.

A Walker spokesman said the governor figures that under the proposed formula, 502 districts in the state will lose some money while 532 districts will gain.

He said Walker will not take a stand on the bill until it reaches his desk, but said, "The governor is trying to make people aware of what is at stake if the new bill passes."

Walker's figures indicated East St. Louis would suffer a $1,395,000 decrease in state-aid while Rockford's state-aid would increase more than $1 million.

The governor's spokesman also said some senators have been trying to make amendments to the bill to assure downstate school districts would receive at least as much as last year, similar to the companion bill submitted for Chicago.

He called those bills for downstate districts "unrealistic," since the state is providing only $1,260,000 for elementary and secondary education in the upcoming school year.

"They can divide that any way they want, but if we give some districts increases under the new formula and assure others will stay at the same level, the money has to run out and someone has to come out on the short end," the spokesman said.

He added long-range state plans are to resume full funding under either formula during the 1977-78 school year.

Student job service has openings

Between 40 and 50 graduates and ongoing students at the two Granite City High Schools have found jobs since the school term ended through the new job placement office, located on Granite City High School South.

Roy McConkey, career and vocational placement counselor, said additional positions still are available for those seeking employment.

"We had a good response from employers wanting to hire graduates and young people still in school," McConkey said. "In fact, we have more employers than prospective employees to place at the present time," he added.

Eligible to take part in the job placement program are students who graduated in May at either Granite City High School and those planning to continue their education this fall who are 16 years and over. Graduates with job skills and anxious to work especially are encouraged to apply, McConkey said.

Some positions require the applicant to work outside the immediate Granite City area and many graduates appear reluctant to take those offers, the counselor said.

"When one finishes school and enters the job market, it is frequently necessary to leave the immediate area to find the right type of job," he stated.

Graduates and current students seeking work must apply in person between 8 a.m. and 12 noon on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at the job placement office at Granite City High School South.

Employers also are invited to register available jobs and future openings by contacting McConkey at South High School.

Proud heritage is Venice theme

The Venice Bicentennial celebration will be held on the afternoon of Saturday, July 3, in Lec Park.

"Our celebration may be on a smaller scale than others, but the City of Venice stands tall and proud of its history," Mrs. Margaret Painter, chairman of the Venice Bicentennial Committee, said.

"Our city hall, library, recreation hall and Lec Park form a complete and compact community. We plan to utilize all of these facilities and each will depict our country's history."

Venice originally was an island city, but high water swept it away in 1851. The city then relocated on Main street.

Main street was a flourishing area with many business houses and hotels, a grain elevator, stock yards and a flower mill, lively stable and easy accessibility to both railroads and the river for shipping.

"Our proud heritage will be shown, in part, in numerous displays at our Bicentennial celebration. We have tried to reach out to all Venice citizens for this memorial event."

"We have included our kindergarten children as well as our senior citizens."

"Our committee is requesting that all Venice citizens, young and old, dress as our forefathers did, back in the good old Main Street days," Mrs. Painter concluded.

Organizations are individuals wishing more information on the July 3 celebration may contact Mrs. Painter at 876-5270.

Armenian immigrants learned to laugh again in GC, found freedom

St. Gregory the Illuminator Armenian Apostolic Church. Most students of Armenian history agree that the Armenians made their first appearance in history shortly after the collapse of the ancient kingdom of Urartu toward the end of the 7th Century B.C.

Armenia, better known as Hayastan, is a region and ancient kingdom in northeast Asia Minor.

Historically, at its zenith, it stretched from the Black Sea to the Caspian Sea from the Mediterranean to Lake Urmia in what is now Iran.

The boundaries of the country have been extremely elastic — frequently and controversially altered by war, conquest, dismemberment, and internal political fragmentation.

In an endless narrative of rise and fall, of triumph and tragedy, its land — with its varied riches and its strategic position of primary import — stirred the ambitions of many invaders. Egyptian, Roman, Arab, Assyrian, Byzantine, Persian, Mongol, Persian and Turk.

All superimposed to varying degrees their languages, religions and cultures on the Armenians. Yet, throughout their turbulent history, the Armenians successfully asserted their identity and upheld their national heritage against great odds.

The legend of Noah's Ark having rested after the flood on the white peak of Mount Ararat and the myth of the Garden of Eden having for its picturesque setting and Armenian Plateau, have naturally kindled the patriotic romanticism of the Armenians. Hence, they proudly proclaim their fatherland as the cradle of mankind.

Though present day Turkish Armenia has no political Ethnic events on weekend

Two ethnic events will be held during the weekend at Baccarat Memorial Church.

St. Gregory's Armenian Church will give a Bicentennial Dance at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Mexican Honorary Consulate Hall, 1805 Ogden Ave.

There will be authentic Armenian food and pastries and traditional music by Chicago Comedians Ensemble.

At 3 p.m. Sunday the Baccarat Bulgarian Ladies Aid Society will present a needlework, arts and crafts festival at Holy Trinity Hall, 1240 Madison Ave.

Displays will include examples of old world artistry and modeling of hand made clothing. Macedonian pastries are prepared and there will be music and dancing.

designated per se, it includes Mount Ararat, the highest point in the region, and the headwaters of the historic Tigris, Euphrates and Arax rivers.

The Armenian Soviet Republic is the smallest of the republics of the Soviet Union. Just south of the Caucasian Mountains, it covers an area about the combined size of Delaware and Maryland.

Yerevan, the well-planned, modern capital of the republic, is the administrative, cultural, commercial and industrial center of the region.

Throughout recorded history, the Armenian people have established an image firmly based on strong family ties — ambitiously dedicated toward success in all of their endeavors, whether in the arts, commerce, religion or just living itself.

They are known not only for their love of parties and feasts, but especially for the cuisine which accompanies such occasions.

Prior to the Fifth Century, the Armenian people had a high rate of illiteracy because they lacked the basic tool of communication — an alphabet.

They had to rely on the languages and alphabets of the region in which they lived. Most popular were Persian, Greek and Syriac.

It may be said that the Armenian alphabet was a necessary outgrowth of the slow but continuous spread of Christianity which began in Armenia during the first half of the first century. In the year 301 A.D. through the efforts of St. Gregory the Illuminator, Armenia became the first nation in the history of the world to adopt Christianity as an official state religion.

But there was still an imminent need for a spiritual and intellectual awakening for the Armenian people. This finally came at the beginning of the Fifth Century when St. Sahag and St. Mesrop added the foundation of Armenian culture with their invention of the Armenian alphabet.

An independent member of the Indo-European family of languages, the Armenian language possesses great vitality despite the assimilation of countless words from other languages over the centuries.

In the late 1800s and early 1900s, as thousands of Armenians find massacres and persecution by the Turks, they came to settle in the Granite City area.

They were from many parts of Armenia, but some of them were from the same villages and knew each other well.

It all started when the Gogorian brothers, native of Kots, Western Armenia, found employment and permanent residency here in the very early 1900s.

The Gogorian brothers, Kapriel and Moushegh, let the word go out to their friends back home that there was work to be had here in the St. Louis area.

Most of the early arrivals were bachelors and many of them settled in Granite City. The pioneering fathers took up work in the heavy industries of the area — American Steel Foundries, Granite City Steel and Hoyt Metal Co.

Many of these "old timers" are still around. When they talk about the "old days of work and sweat," they say it was well worth it.

Their hard work at least gave them the means of establishing Armenian households in this new country.

Some of the early families were the Asadorians, Astorians,

The married men sent for their wives and the bachelors sent for their sweethearts and the others greeted any newly-arrived miss with a gleam in his eye.

Armenian girls of marrying age were scarce and competition was stiff. Of course, the girl had nothing to say about who she wanted; all of the talking was done by the young man and the girl's father.

The community grew, with everyone helping each other in any way he could.

The Armenians that worked in the factories were serious about their work. They felt it was a privilege to live in a peaceful country and to be able to work and earn their own money.

They soon became homeowners and businessmen.

The community known as Lincoln Place grew with the Armenian people. They kept their heritage and culture, but they also melted into the area with the Mexicans, Bulgarians, Yugoslavians, Macedonians and Hungarians.

Some of the early families were the Asadorians, Astorians, Avedisians, Bedians, Bogosians, Depigians, Donjoans, Haroians, Hagopians, Manoogians, Mateosians, Megrdichians, Nighohosians, Tatosians, Torosians, Parshagians, Varadians, Vartanians and Vartians, just to name a few.

Every Armenian name ends in an "ian" or "ian," which means "son of."

The children learned from each other and shared a little of their own culture with the children of other nationalities. The boys and girls who came from Lincoln Place to this day feel a closeness to each other, even though they may have moved away and only see each other occasionally.

It was a good place to bring up a family, and most of them shared the same problems.

All of the children attended the Lincoln Place Community Center. They were taught by Miss Sophie Prather, who was loved by all. She not only taught the children, but also the adults, who were studying for their citizenship exams.

Miss Prather touched every family in one way or another and, even today, her name is always mentioned whenever anyone reminisces about the "old days." A Granite City junior high school is named after her.

The church plays a large part in the lives of Armenians, and the Armenians of Granite City were no different. In 1954 they purchased a church from the Bulgarians; it was located on 17th and Maple Streets.

It was a dream come true to finally have a house of worship. On Dec. 5, 1954, the church was consecrated St. Gregory the Illuminator Armenian Apostolic Church.

Today, it is still their church even though the number of Armenians has decreased to 30 families.

The younger Armenians have moved into other areas, but most of them return to attend church. The church retains its adult and women's clubs as well as its Armenian Youth Federation.

The church still celebrates the same holy days that were celebrated centuries ago. Christianity was adopted as a state religion in Armenia in the year 301.

The church in which Granite City Armenians worship is probably the first Bulgarian Orthodox church built in the United States. The exact year it was built is not known. Like the age of the church, the ages of many of the first residents are not known for sure.

Many have lived here for over 50 years. They came as children or young adults, so they can guess what age they are.

When one is asked the age of another, he says, "He must be older than me, because he was a grown man when I came here," or "When I came here he was married and had his first child."

The Armenians who settled in Granite City came here as poor, young and sad men, forced to leave their homeland and loved ones. Many had lost their entire family during the Turkish massacres, but Armenians are used to hardship and tragedy.

Somehow, they survive because they never lose their pride and hope. Although they never forget what has happened in the past, they still go on as they have in Granite City.

Here, they have learned to laugh again. And if you look around the city, you will find an Armenian in every walk of life.

We have teachers, business people, lawyers and doctors and many are working in the factories where their fathers worked, but in a higher position.

Father Habeshian, the priest of St. Gregory the Illuminator Armenian Apostolic Church, was asked recently what is important to Armenians. He tells the legend of how Armenia was founded in its early days by Haig.

Haig left the land where he was living to escape the tyranny of the giants. He took his people to Mt. Ararat in what is now Eastern Turkey, and decided to live there.

When asked why he had chosen to live in that inclement, bleak territory, Haig replied he would rather live there free than return to tyranny.

"Freedom," Father Habeshian replies, "Freedom."

In this Bicentennial year, the Armenians of Granite City say "God bless America," for it truly is a great country in which to live.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD Thurs., June 17, 1976 Page 32

New race track fire prevention rules went into effect this week under the direction of State Fire Marshal Robert G. Wahl. "These new rules are the first comprehensive approach directed solely to the issue of race track fire safety to be developed in the United States," Harvey N. Johnson Jr., director of the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement, said.

A bill to restore state funding of a $15 million civic and performing arts center in Madison County took another jolt in the legislature Tuesday as antagonists forced postponement of a House committee hearing. The legislation, already passed by the Senate, promises to go down to the wire in the General Assembly session, scheduled to adjourn June 30.

A bill that would have given

Illinois a no-fault divorce system was defeated Wednesday by the House. The House vote was 78 to 76, 11 votes short of the 89 votes needed for passage.

THEFT FROM HOME: A $90 leather coat, a shotgun and a rifle were stolen from the home of Brian Smith, 3432 Edison Ave., between Monday and 6 p.m. Wednesday.

Charge four in break-in at Stallings

David H. Weeks, 23, of 4364 Highway 182, Greg McClary, 4380 Highway 162, and two juveniles have been charged with burglary in connection with a break-in about 3 a.m. Tuesday at Stallings School. Sheriff's deputies were in the school parking lot when a youth was seen running from the school into weeds near the railroad tracks behind the school. The building was searched, but no one was found inside.

Deputies searched the weeds around the building and found several items stolen from the school. Nearby they alleged finding two youths who were arrested.

Items recovered in the weeds included a coffee pot, a ditto maker, a food scale, a fan, tape recordings, soda and a flag.

The two were taken to the Pontoon Beach Police Department where deputies questioned them and allegedly learned the names of three others believed involved. Two of them were arrested at 4:50 a.m. Tuesday. The other is sought.

Deputies found extensive vandalism and ransacking had occurred inside the school. Fire extinguishers had been emptied on the floor and furniture and other furnishings had been overturned with some of it allegedly broken.

Women's ASA tourney in park on Saturday

The Granite City Women's Amateur Softball Association (ASA) will hold a tournament Saturday and Sunday on Wilson Park diamond eight, with four teams participating.

The top three teams will advance to the Women's State tournament.

In the opening game at 10 a.m. Saturday the Crickets play

Sammy's, followed at 11 a.m. with Bill's Auto Body and Kentucky Fried Chicken doing battle.

The winners of the first two games will meet at 2 p.m. Sunday, while the losers will play at 2 p.m. Sunday.

The top team in the winners' bracket will face the winning team in the losers' bracket for the championship at 8 p.m. Sunday.

12 strikeouts by Post 113

Randy Lyerla fanned 10 Belleville batters in four and a half innings on the mound, and relief hurler Kirk Champion put out two more, but the Belleville squad prevailed 7-0 over Tri-City Post 113 in a District 22 American Legion Baseball League contest.

On Tuesday, the local

Legionnaires lost 11-5 in a non-league game to Gillespie in which John Kerkovich, Paul Evans and Danny Stanton collected two hits each.

Post 113, now with a 3-2 league record, takes on Edwardsville at 8 p.m. tomorrow, and then competes Saturday and Sunday in non-league games at Rlytheville, Ark.

Post 435 tied for 1st place

Glen Carbon American Legion Post 435 is in a first-place tie with Belleville, both 5-1, in District 22 Legion baseball standings after defeating Edwardsville 5-4 on Monday and then Highland 9-6 Tuesday. Post 435 overcame a 4-0 Edwardsville lead, scoring two runs in the fifth and three more in the seventh. In the seventh, Harvey Breckner and Richard Schmidt both reached on an error, Brian Sikes drew a walk and Jody Faioli doubled in all the runners.

Glen Carbon offset homers by Highland's Rich Kantner and Bobby Koch with a two-run homer by its own Brian Sikes. The Legionnaires scored seven of its runs in the first three innings. Schmidt paced Glen Carbon's effort with three RBIs on four hits.

Coach Ron Madden's squad now faces Collinsville at seven o'clock today at Collinsville, and then travels to Alton tomorrow for a 6 p.m. contest.

Host Miss County Fair contestants

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, noting that Tuesday July 27 has been designated Granite City Day at the 1976 Madison County Fair, said "Our participation in this annual event is long overdue and we are pleased to be a part of this year's activities."

Mayor Schuler was among those who delivered impromptu speeches last week at a dinner for fair officials and contestants in the first annual "Miss Madison County Fair" pageant.

The pageant will be held Thursday, July 15 at Lindendale Park in Highland, site of the week-long fair which begins July 15. It is a function of the county fair but is being conducted prior to fair week to allow of future contestants time to outline the chosen queen's duties at the festive event.

Guests at the dinner held at Ponderosa Steak House here included Kathi McDonald of KMOX-TV, Willard "Butch" Porter, Madison County Clerk of the Circuit Court, Silvia Von Versen, of WGN-TV, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Duster, Baymen of St. Louis, Rocky Rhodes of St. Louis, Kris Krush of St. Louis, Robin Lowery of Brentwood, Mo., Viola Suits of Springfield, and Mayor Schuler, all of whom will serve as judges at the pageant.

In attendance also were WIL radio personality David Lee who will serve as master-of-ceremonies on pageant night, Granite City's Owen Ross and Dave Johnson, the pageant's stage directors, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin "Tutty" Schumacher of Highland representing the Madison County Fair Association, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Moss of Highland, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Bargetti of Highland and Ken Thompson of the Granite City Press-Record and Mrs. Thompson.

Viola Suits, "Miss Illinois" of 1948 and current director of the statewide fair pageant, told the young women who will vie for the county title, "You are all winners this year due to the fact that all of you are the first ever to enter your county pageant."

"I notice some of you are looking at the girl sitting near you very carefully."

"Don't become discouraged just because you think you are too tall or too short, or because you think the other girl is prettier."

"When I was chosen to represent this state in the Miss America pageant, I was the shortest of all contestants and far from being the loveliest."

"Overall qualities in a girl is what the judges will be looking for, such as personality, charm, grace, poise, etc."

Eight Granite City girls head the list of 21 county wide candidates for the county title — Terry Hawkins, Anne Howden, Shannon Marmion, Carol Douglas, Pamela Tester, Melanie Asadorian, Kathy Petrovich and Sandra Kohn.

Entered also are Tami Eck of Venice, Nancy Wilhelm, Joy Bullivant, Terry Muenier, Nancy Heiman, Debbie Jacober and Penny Daum, all of Highland; Tracy Callender of Glen Carbon; Yvonne Meier of Troy; Cathy Fleming of Collinsville; and Connie Marlow, Denise Highlander and Barbara Brandt, all of Edwardsville.

Stage Director Owen Ross announced the first of three rehearsals prior to the pageant will be held at 1 p.m., Sunday, June 20, at Highland. Other rehearsal dates are June 26 at Highland, July 10 at Granite City and July 14 at Highland.

Advance tickets for the July 15 pageant are now available at Ponderosa Steak House Restaurants in Wood River, Fairview Heights and Granite City.

CONTEST PROCEDURES and rules are explained to candidates at a dinner held at the Ponderosa Steak House, 1511 Johnson Road, which served to formally introduce 18 of the 21 contestants to pageant officials and guests. About 55 persons attended, including Mayor Paul Schuler who announced the first Granite City Day will take place Tuesday, July 27 at the Madison County

Common cold could be hard to spread, research indicates

Covering coughs and sneezes is still a sound idea, but spreading colds may be more complicated than previously suspected, a report from the Lewis-Clark Lung Association indicates this week.

According to one new study, cold catching may require hours of togetherness between the giver and getter.

At the University of Wisconsin, Dr. Elliot C. Dick and a team of researchers asked volunteers to risk a cold in the interest of science. The study was designed to find out if the volunteers would spread their colds to their spouses.

One person in each couple was infected by administering nose drops which contained a cold virus.

The researchers were surprised to find that less than half of the cold-infected subjects — 38 per cent — transmitted their colds to their spouses.

In those cases where the colds were transmitted, the researchers said, the symptoms from the original infection were at least moderate or less severe.

It was pointed out the couples involved spent many hours together during the week, usually 122 hours a week, or more than 17 hours a day.

The idea of the common cold spreading like wildfire in a community may be a myth, the researchers said.

Person-to-person spread of cold viruses, said Dr. Dick, is not really predictable and is more difficult than has been suspected.

Persons interested in finding out more about the common cold and the many different viruses that cause it, may write the Lewis-Clark Lung Association, P.O. Box 138, Wood River, Ill., 62695.

The association formerly was known as the Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association.

Tape 'tattles' on books being improperly taken

Friends of Lovejoy Library at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville have donated the $14,750 needed to purchase an electronic security system known as "TattleTape."

The library security system will be an electronic detector and gate which will lock and sound an alarm if a person attempts to pass through with a book that has not been properly charged out, according to John Abbott, director of the Lovejoy Library.

Each book will be "tagged," which is a process in which a wire or thin metal strip will be hidden somewhere in the book. This tag will trigger the alarm if the book is not properly checked out, he said.

Not all books will be tagged, however. The library begins use of TattleTape, Abbott explained. Not all volumes will have been completed by the installation time in June, he said.

TattleTape is expected to save the university large sums each year that it is in operation, according to Abbott. "This system is something that the entire university community has wanted, including students," he said.

It is a disguised way of checking persons when they leave the library. Most people seem to have a positive attitude toward it.

Friends of Lovejoy Library, an organization which has contributed to the development of the library, has provided the physical apparatus and arranged for its installation, according to Mrs. Sheila Nussman, executive secretary of the Friends.

We have raised the money through two annual benefit antique shows and a number of public book fairs. Mrs. Nussman said. "Some of the money also was raised through new memberships in Friends."

In addition to raising the money for TattleTape, which is one of the goals that has been met in the past year, the Friends have completed many other projects in the library's interest.

The organization has dedicated itself to the task of informing the public regarding the library's needs and to seeking out books, book collections and other types of materials of interest to the library.

"Friends" has raised money through membership dues, gifts and projects. The funds have been spent for music collections in the library, restoration of Alan J. Conant's 1862 painting of "The Smiling Lincoln," equipment for the visually handicapped, and document preservation.

Plan for state to survive cash crisis

Comptroller George Lindberg is urging a 19-point plan to "balance the state budget and move the state through its cash crisis for the next two years without a tax hike."

Details of the proposal were provided to each of the 266 members of the General Assembly, who were asked by Lindberg to "set aside partisanship and concentrate on the state's number one problem—bringing spending in line with income."

Michael J. Bakalis, nominated to run against Lindberg for comptroller, called the proposal "an exercise in gimmickry."

In press conference stops in Springfield, Champaign, Peoria and Chicago, Lindberg said, "For the past two years I have consistently warned that we have been living beyond our means in Illinois. Now, the state's finances are in unprecedented straits."

"The multi-year plan I have presented offers a reasonable and coherent way out of the disarray—step by step."

"There is a fiscal time bomb ticking for Illinois right now. If the bomb explodes, it will signal new taxes."

"I can already see the long arm of Mayor Daley of Chicago reaching into the legislature to frustrate my efforts to bring this plan personally before the people most responsible for making it work."

"If the plan fails, the mayor and his lieutenants will have to accept a great deal of the blame. They have denied me the right to speak directly to the legislature."

"I propose 19 individual steps as a way out of the cash shortage which has gripped this state since last September. The alternative to this plan is fiscal chaos or new taxes."

"My proposal includes no dramatic calls for mass layoffs or unattainable budget cuts. It will require reasonable sacrifices—living within available means—to make it work. Major deviations can insure fiscal crises more severe than those this year."

"The steps I suggest are aimed squarely at giving Illinois a balanced budget. That is something we haven't had for the past two years."

"I have outlined for the General Assembly a way to realistically balance the state's multi-billion-dollar budget. We must sacrifice and have no new programs next year."

"If we do these things, a year from now we can return to a position of near-normal growth in state programs and a balanced budget."

"In spite of my calling fiscal 1977 a year of sacrifice, my proposal includes the money presently in the budget for education and a substantial increase for education in 1978. It will not be easy to accomplish what I suggest. But if the steps are followed and appropriate actions are taken by the legislature this month, we can avert new taxes and restore budgetary sanity in state government."

The points in Lindberg's proposal are:

1. Fiscal 1976 general funds deficit must be limited to $215 million, including an $18 million income tax refund deficiency.

2. Fiscal 1976 general funds supplemental appropriations must not grow to more than $189 million.
3. Income tax and sales tax acceleration bills for one-time $95 million revenue gain must be enacted.
4. State expenditures must be permanently smoothed by spreading September's $150 million reimbursement (special education, and transportation) throughout the year. Reimburse schools for $3.5 million interest lost.
5. Monthly common school payment must be split into two payments. Reimburse schools for $1.5 million interest lost.
6. General funds fiscal 1977 expenditure growth must be held to $985 million. The underestimation of public aid spending must be recognized and faced now.
7. There must be a moratorium on all new programs unless old programs are eliminated in a corresponding amount.
8. State revenues must be controlled throughout the year so spending levels can be adjusted if revenues come in lower than expected.
9. General obligation bond sales must be kept at an affordable level of $300 million to control general fund spending for debt service cost.
10. State universities must spend from their income funds, not from spending from the general funds.
11. Idle funds must not be piggybacked, but moved promptly into the general funds.
12. Funds being moved out of the general fund must be closely monitored. Make no excess transfers out, but rather move funds out only as needed.
13. Hold welfare spending growth by concentrated effort on reducing ineligibles and Medicaid fraud.
14. Hold the growth in expenditures to the anticipated growth in revenues of $475 million.
15. Cost-of-living increases, equal to no more than the rate of inflation are possible for state employees in fiscal 1978.
16. Overall growth in school funding, retirement, special education, other grants and operations must be held to the predicted cost-of-living increase of 8 percent.
17. Continue the moratorium on new programs.
18. Continue 1977 cash management practices listed above.
19. Hold bond sales to an "affordable level" of $300 million.

SIUE consolidates Dental school units

Consolidation of 17 departments in the School of Dental Medicine at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville into seven new departments was announced Thursday by the SIUE Board of Trustees.

The new departments, and the departments and disciplines they will consolidate (shown in parentheses) are:

Department of biomedical sciences (anatomy, biochemistry, microbiology, pharmacology and physiology); department of diagnostic specialties (medicine, pathology, and radiology); department of restorative dentistry (dental materials, fixed prosthodontics and operative dentistry).

Department of prosthodontics (maxillofacial prosthodontics, removable complete prosthodontics and removable partial prosthodontics); department of surgical specialties (endodontics, oral and maxillofacial surgery, and periodontology); department of pediatric dentistry and orthodontics (pediatric dentistry and child and adult orthodontics); and department of community dentistry and human behavior (preventive dentistry, community dentistry, behavioral sciences, student counseling and dental auxiliary education).

Dr. Stanley Hazen, dean of the School, said the reorganization will provide for "more centralized administrative activity, a savings in administrative costs, more equitable distribution of supporting staff, improved evaluation mechanisms for faculty and staff, better means of interaction among functionally-related disciplines, means for a chairperson to function as such, and for more teaching and research time for faculty who have previously been involved in administration."

Dean Hazen said it is anticipated that, as auxiliary education programs are developed and approved in the future, a department of auxiliary education may need to be created by future Board action. This department would include the areas of dental hygiene and auxiliary education programs.

165 Illinois traffic deaths during May

During the month of May, Illinois had 165 traffic fatalities on the highways, according to Capt. Albert J. Berzaglio, commander of District 1 with headquarters at Mayville. Twenty of these occurred within the district which covers a nine-county area including the Quad Cities.

Major-league fatalities so far this year total 736, an increase of 31 over the same period last year.

Fluctuating red lights in a dual emergency vehicle responding to an emergency situation, some person's life is in danger, fluctuating red lights are permitted only on police vehicles, fire and rescue vehicles, and ambulances, Capt. Berzaglio said.

With the summer vacation period, the traffic is going to be heavier and that could mean more accidents, he added.

I would like to ask everyone to plan ahead when driving, plan ahead and avoid emergency vehicles. This could save a life.

SGT. WM. GOODE, U.S. Marine Corps, who has enlisted for five years and will leave June 22 for Camp Pendleton, Calif. He is a son of Mrs. Esther Tucker, 2301 Nameoki Road.

Percy says public ill-equipped to cope with deceptive rug schemes

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

Beware of the carpet caper, says Sen. Charles H. Percy, calling for a Federal Trade Commission investigation of the $2.3 billion industry.

The Illinois Republican believes a big rug ripoff is going on. And he wants FTC Chairman Calvin J. Collier to get to the bottom of it.

"Clearly," Percy wrote Collier last week, "too many Americans have been deceived too often for the commission to ignore a thorough inquiry of the retail carpet industry."

According to Better Business Bureau, prosecutors and the FTC's own staff, carpet fraud appears often in the top six consumer complaints, Percy said.

"No other home furnishing item appears to involve as much misunderstanding on the part of consumers, or is fraught with such abuses at their expense," Percy said.

Percy said he has perceived an apparent pattern of deception nationwide in the last 10 months, prompting his call for an inquiry. As part of the pattern, he noted this instance: A suburban Chicago retailer was cited by the DuPage County state's attorney for overcharging 374 customers $12,154 by paying salesmen $3 per cent commissions to add unneeded yardage to sales. He said the owner drew a fine on a theft conviction.

Percy said consumers make five common complaints:

1. Bait and switch: A retailer may advertise in a local television guide a low-priced special, which a shopper finds is not as advertised. The salesman plays down the special in favor of costlier or overstocked carpeting.

2. Inflating estimates: Customers are told they need more carpeting than is actually installed. They pay for an excess they don't get. If the fraud is discovered, they are told extra carpeting is needed for odd spaces.

3. Misrepresenting pad weight: Pads can be tagged with higher than their real weight. Pads of lesser weight and quality than the customer ordered and paid for can be delivered. Once covered by carpeting, the switch is undetected.

4. Yard substitution: Inasmuch as few customers are aware of the subtle differences in carpet quality, a somewhat inferior grade than ordered may be delivered and go undetected.

5. False delivery promises: Weeks or months may pass before promised carpeting, for which a customer has paid a deposit, is delivered. The dealer, meanwhile, earns interest on the customer's deposit.

Sen. Percy outlined a six-point program to decrease such frauds, noting at the same time that honest dealers, who represent the bulk of the industry, "would have nothing to fear from a searching FTC investigation."

Here are Percy's proposals for FTC fraud regulation rules:

1. Mandatory information labeling: Since customers and salesmen can be equally ill-informed, honest labeling is needed. Labels should follow the European practice of including data on warranties, durability, colorfastness and other necessary information.

2. Deceptive weight labels for padding should be prohibited.

3. Retail stores should be required to post measuring conversion charts and provide copies to potential customers, who could thus check the amount of carpeting the retailer says is necessary.

4. Carpeting and matching showroom samples should be stamped on the back with code numbers. Customers could thus assure themselves the delivered carpeting is the same as the sample from which it was ordered.

5. A retailer should be limited in how long he can retain a deposit without making a refund with interest, unless the customer chooses to wait.

6. Customers should be provided with installation guidelines on what can be expected in buying carpeting at an "installed" price. Guidelines should cover such practices as hiding seams, tacking to eliminate bunching and providing door clearance over newly-laid carpeting.

Percy said the industry estimates that Americans buy carpeting on the average of once every eight years and, last year, the average purchase per household was $257. This is expected to rise to at least $323 by 1980.

"Carpeting," Percy concludes, "has become a 'big ticket' item that is perceived as a home furnishings necessity by consumers."

Health care approval

A community health-care training program, to be conducted in Madison and St. Clair Counties by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, was approved last week by the Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE) at its June meeting in Springfield.

The IBHE approved $46,443 for the project, matching a federal grant of $45,000. The project will determine health-care facilities available in the two counties and publish and disseminate a directory of health-care services to the human service agencies in the area.

A training program as designed by the American Medical Association will be conducted for home health-care aides to provide services for homebound indigent elderly who need concentrated, intermediate or basic levels of care.

An education program on nutrition and preventive medical care also will be conducted through the public schools, adult education programs and the Madison-St. Clair County Urban League.

The IBHE approved the appointment of 18 members to the Community Services and Continuing Education Council. The appointees include Emil F. Jason, Edwardsville, assistant vice-president for special programs and minority affairs at SIUE.

The IBHE also approved (ETVC), including Russell C. Solomon of Edwardsville, vice-president of Granite City Steel. Other appointees announced at the meeting are Diego Redondo of Deerfield, a member of the IBHE who was named chairman of the ETVC, and Louise A.

OPEN MONDAY THROUGH SATURDAY 8:30 A.M. TO 5:30 P.M.

BICENTENNIAL FLAG EMPHASIS this year will extend from Flag Day through Independence Day. This view on Flag Day June 14 shows a mammoth garrison flag on display along with a U.S. Bicentennial flag. Seven persons are utilized to help install the garrison flag on the flagpole. A cannon at the base of the flagpole and the nearby trees give an indication of the size of the flag.
